Normal time was restored March 28, after a period of daylight saving. The change will place eastern Australia 12 hours ahead of Pacific daylight time in Canada.

Public Clamor For Tea, Coffee As Ration Effectuated

Caught with small stocks of tea and coffee on hand, some housewives today rushed to buy a pound or more of these products, following announcement of tea rations of one ounce per person per week, and coffee rations of 4 ounces per person per week.

Coupon rationing of tea and coffee was in effect in most Victoria stores this morning.

Matte, postum and other substitutes are not rationed.

Rationing, it was said, spells the end of afternoon tea parties more certainly than high price of liquor has doomed cocktail parties.

Although War-time Prices and Trade Board had a flood of telephone calls concerning tea and coffee rationing, officers said the public for the most part expected the rationing, but not cut so small.

Retailers must make out statements to the War-time Prices and Trade Board showing stocks on hand and normal consumption. Then, to buy sugar from the wholesalers, they must turn over ration coupons collected from the public.

Retailers who buy tea in bulk and package it are allowed for shrinkage at the rate of 26 ounces for 50 pounds; they have to turn over only 784 coupons instead of 800 to purchase 50 pounds of tea.

Biggest problem facing retailers is lack of small size packages of tea.

One-ounce and two-ounce packages of tea and quarter-pound packages of coffee are being prepared.

NO RATION FOR CAFES

Restaurants are not rationed in tea and coffee purchases. They must, however, make reports of their normal consumption to the price board along with a report of the amount of tea and coffee on hand.

Any retailer or restaurant keeper caught with a stock on hand smaller than usual will be issued a special permit by the price board.

Retailers are not permitted to raise the price of tea or coffee to compensate for expenses caused by packaging. If tea is worth 80 cents a pound, no person should pay more than 5 cents for an ounce of it.

Average Victorian's tea consumption was estimated at six cups a day. Now each citizen will be permitted only two cups a week-day and none on Sunday for one ounce of tea will make approximately 12½ cups of tea.

Four ounces of coffee will make about 12 cups.

LESS THAN BRITAIN

Tea and coffee rationing here is more strict than in Britain, it was pointed out, as Englishmen are permitted two ounces of tea a week, with no coffee rationing. While Canadian children under 12 do not merit a tea or coffee ration, in England children do whether they drink tea or not.

Some Victoria housewives, who have husbands overseas have suggested that they will try to arrange an exchange of cigarettes for coffee.

Apple Sauce? No Sugar

War-time Prices and Trade Board today warned the public there is no provision for extra sugar for making apple sauce or other fresh fruit sauces and any sugar used for this purpose must come out of the householder's ration of half a pound a week.

Sawdust Outlook Growing Worse

VANCOUVER—With sawdust dealers breaking ceiling prices and the War-time Prices and Trade Board threatening action, the fuel situation in Victoria, Vancouver and along the coast continues chaotic.

Householders using sawdust for furnaces or kitchen stoves today find themselves facing the possibility of having to go without this winter, while hundreds of carloads of mill cuttings, especially on the island north of Victoria, are being burned as waste in open air refuse burners.

Following a meeting here at the week-end with the sawdust trade, price board officials admitted the situation looked bad. For Greater Vancouver, it was found, there would be only 400,000 units of sawdust available for ANOTHER BISHOP TAKES TO THE SKIES—A great moment in the life of Air Marshal W. A. (Billy) Bishop occurred when he pinned the wings of a fighting R.C.A.F. pilot on his son, Leading Aircraftman Arthur Bishop, Canada's greatest ace of the Great War is shown in the photograph as he pinned the wings to L.A.C. Bishop's tunic. Billy Bishop is credited in official war records with destruction of 72 enemy aircraft, 25 of which he shot down within 10 days in 1918.

Cathedral Grove Owners Willing to Co-operate

Campaign of the B.C. Natural Resources Conservation League to preserve Cathedral Grove and Strathcona Park gateway for posterity seems to be meeting with some success.

H. E. Harris of the League and Chief Forester C. D. Orchard are shortly to see Elk River Timber Company executives about exchanging their Strathcona timber for crown timber, as suggested last week by Premier John Hart.

John A. Humbird, vice-president and general manager of Victoria Lumber and Manufacturing Company, owners of Cathedral Grove, says that tract of priceless scenic timber is in no immediate danger.

"Under ordinary conditions we would take the Cathedral Grove timber in our stride and cut it when it served our purpose best,"

Mr. Humbird said. "But I recognize, because of the scenic beauty of the Cameron Lake forest, we should deal with it as a special case and we are willing to do so."

"The company is ready to negotiate a trade with the provincial government, but we feel it is the government's obligation to make the first move. So far we have received no proposition definite enough to work on. I am fully satisfied that, in view of all the circumstances, a trade with the government would be the sensible thing. We aren't in a hurry to log Cathedral Grove and hope that some plan may be evolved to save it."

Mr. Humbird said reports indicating logging crews intend to cut down the big trees, which have staggered the imagination of visitors, within the next three months were "made of thin air."

LAND FIGHTING IN EGYPT QUIET

CAIRO (AP)—British aircraft continued their assaults on Axis positions west of El Alamein, but land operations in Egypt again were limited to minor patrol skirmishes and artillery fire. British headquarters reported today.

Fighter bombers were said to have attacked an Axis reconnaissance unit near the Qattara depression on the southern flank of the front, bombed an enemy headquarters and blasted groups of motor trucks.

R.A.F. fighters also maintained steady patrols over the battle zone.

Saturday Allied bombers scored two direct hits on a large enemy supply ship at Derna and left it in a sinking condition, an earlier communique said. Three motor lighters were reported sunk at Sidi Barrani and Matruh and others damaged.

Nazis Complain Of U-Boat Losses

OTTAWA (CP)—Berlin radio, heard by the CBC listening post at Ottawa, reminded the German people that submarine warfare has two sides. The Berlin announcer expressed anxiety over the high rate of loss among Germany's fleet of "sail cutters," a vessel described as displacing 500 tons.

According to the broadcast, the craft have turned out to be underpowered, and have been unable to escape attack by Allied submarines. Ten vessels of this type have been lost in recent engagements.

Canadian Chiefs See Gen. Brooke

LONDON (CP)—Lt.-Gen. Kenneth Stuart, chief of the Canadian general staff, and Lt.-Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, Canadian army commander, conferred today with Gen. Sir Alan Brooke, chief of the Imperial General Staff, and discussed war problems with other war office leaders.

Late Sunday Gen. Stuart visited Canadian army headquarters, had supper with Gen. McNaughton and held informal discussions at the army commander's home during the evening.

Fate of Saboteurs In Roosevelt's Hands

WASHINGTON (AP)—The military commission which tried eight alleged Nazi saboteurs reached a decision today on the guilt or innocence of the men and Maj.-Gen. Frank R. McCoy took the findings to the White House for President Roosevelt.

The President must review the findings and he is expected to take his time and go into the case thoroughly.

Good Faith Factor Judge Frees Rene Chaloult In Defence Case

MONTREAL (CP)—Judge Edouard Archambault, in court of sessions of the peace, today freed Rene Chaloult, Liberal member of Quebec Legislative Assembly for Lotbiniere, of charges laid under the Defence of Canada Regulations. The charges arose out of a speech made here May 19.

Judge Archambault, in his judgment, said he "unhesitatingly condemned the speech as a violation of article 39 of the Defence of Canada Regulation, but in taking into consideration article 39B, certain circumstances and also the possible doubt as to the question of good faith, the accused is liberated from all accusations in the complaint."

(Article 39B of the Defence of Canada Regulations provides that "it shall be a defence of any prosecution to prove that the person accused intended in good faith merely to criticize or to point out errors or defects in the government of Canada.")

HINDERS ARMY

The complaint against Mr. Chaloult charged him with having uttered statements in a public address before several thousand persons, tending to "cause disaffection to His Majesty; hinder the success of His Majesty's armies as well as those of the Allied Nations; hinder recruiting and training and discipline of His Majesty's armies, and tending to impair the security of the state and the successful prosecution of the war."

Judge Archambault, in his judgment, said the accused had not only testified to his good faith, but also had given evidence to prove that good faith.

"Without doubt, all citizens are equal before the law," the judge said, "but we readily understand that a member of the Legislative Assembly, used for several years to the privilege of parliamentary immunity, may be more outspoken than others—even outside Parliament."

WARNING TO OTHERS

Judge Archambault, in recognizing the proof of good faith and granting the benefit of the doubt to the accused, said "this should not be considered as giving carte blanche to subversive utterances and to speeches and impromptu talks tending to cause trouble in the country."

Soviet Planes Stemming Tide Of Nazi Drive

By EDDY GILMORE
MOSCOW (AP)—Aided by dive bombers which hammered crawling columns of fresh thousands of German men and vehicles, the Red army declared today that it had repulsed the Germans in all the vital sectors except south of Rostov, where "severe defensive battles were being waged."

Even there, said the Soviet Information Bureau, Don and Kuban Cossacks from the Red army of the Caucasus were savagely counterattacking to stem the German advance.

More than 6,000 Germans were killed and at least 25 tanks destroyed in a single day along the curving 300-mile Don front, the Russians declared.

Gambling high for Caucasian oil, the Germans threw reserves by the thousands across their Rostov bridgeheads. They were employing every kind of motorized conveyance—fast motorcycles, speedy troop-carrying trucks, tanks bearing automatic riflesmen, and small tanks which rushed the Russians from the flanks.

But the reinforced Russian air force strafed and bombed these columns continuously as they coiled southward.

Kill 2,000 Nazis Near Kletska

About 2,000 Germans were left dead on the field in a fierce struggle near Kletska, northwest of Stalingrad in the Don bend, where the invaders were repulsed, the communique said.

Units of Don and Kuban Cossacks charged fiercely into the slowly advancing Nazi forces in the Kuchevka-Salsk region of the north Caucasus in what the communique described as a "successful counterattack" and killed 1,500 Germans, it was reported.

The Communist Party newspaper Pravda told how the Cossacks in the Kuchevka area held a large north Caucasus village, despite 16 attacks by German motorized units supported by dive-bombers.

16 German Divisions Transfer From France

LONDON (CP)—Sixteen German divisions, including two armored divisions, have been transferred from occupied

France and the Low Countries to the Russian front, but have been replaced by other units, British military quarters said today.

These sources denied emphatically reports published in London that only nine Nazi divisions now remain in France, and that the occupied coast is virtually defenseless.

It is presumed, they said, that there now are about 26 divisions in France and the Low Countries.

Nazis Say Tanks Near Kuban River

BERLIN (From German Broadcasts, AP)—The high command claimed today that one of its tank columns was approaching the upper course of the Kuban River in the Caucasus.

(The Kuban rises in the Caucasus Mountains. The "upper course," which the Germans said they were nearing, however, may refer to a bend in the river near Kropotki, 40 miles south of Rostov. Kropotki is 40 miles south of Tikhoretsk, the junction of the Rostov-Baku and Stalingrad-Krasnodar railways. Kropotki itself is a junction of a secondary railway from Krasnodar, an important oil centre, and the Rostov-Baku line.)

"Local enemy resistance was broken and much booty, guns in particular, has been brought in," said the communique.

Between the Sal and Don rivers to the northeast, the communique said, the Germans were driving the Russians eastward, in the direction of Stalingrad, while to the northwest Russian rear-guards were being forced southward from the sector of the Yegh River, which empties into Taganrog Bay, near Rostov.

Lone German Plane Raids Iceland Post

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP)—A German plane bombed and machine-gunned a remote military installation of southeastern Iceland Sunday, United States military authorities announced today, saying there were no casualties and only negligible damage.

This was the fifth instance of German air activity over Iceland, garrisoned by U.S. troops, within two weeks. The attack apparently was minor, but the army declined further details.

Fighting Flares on Buna Front

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Australia (CP)—

The possibility that the Japanese have reinforced their garrison at Buna was acknowledged by an Allied spokesman today as headquarters reported a renewal of savage fighting in the New Guinea jungles midway between that enemy base and Port Moresby.

The communique announcing the jungle fighting declared Allied troops had routed Japanese outposts near Kokoda, 60 miles east of Port Moresby, and said Allied bombers had set fire to enemy supply dumps in that area.

It was the first reference to the existence of such supply dumps, and an Allied spokesman said it was not impossible the Japanese had been moving men and equipment in from Lae—some 165 miles north of Buna.

There have been no indications, however, that the original force which the Japanese landed July 22 in the Buna area—estimated at not more than 2,500 men—has been reinforced by sea, the spokesman said.

Buenos Aires Papers Condemn Attackers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Acting State Secretary Sumner Welles today expressed confidence that the people of Argentina shared with Americans a feeling of deep regret over the attack on Waldo Frank, United States author and lecturer, in his Buenos Aires apartment Sunday. (Frank was beaten and severely injured by six men who called at his apartment soon after the Argentine government had declared he no longer was welcome in Argentina.)

Asked at his press conference about the Buenos Aires incident, Mr. Welles replied:

"Since I have known personally for a quarter of a century the chivalry of the Argentine people and their proverbial hospitality to the stranger within their gates, I am certain the Argentine people have a feeling of deep regret for this incident and circumstances attendant upon it—in other words, they share the same feeling with the many friends of Mr. Frank in other countries as well as his fellow citizens naturally have."

(Buenos Aires doctors said Frank probably would be in the hospital for a week.)

(The Buenos Aires press unanimously condemned the attack as cowardly.)

(The foreign ministry had declared the author persona non grata Saturday after newspapers had published a letter from him in which he stated that every where in Argentina he found "confusion, discontent and discouragement not far from consternation.")

6 STORES TO SERVE YOU

1 Cup Each Person In Restaurants

OTTAWA (CP)—Stiffened regulations covering sale of tea and coffee in eating places went into effect today, with the application of coupon rationing to those commodities, the Wartime Prices and Trade Board said.

No person may be supplied with more than one cup of tea or one cup of coffee at a sitting.

Previously the board had ruled that only one cup could be served at a time but in some places operators of eating houses permitted a patron to buy a cup of tea and a cup of coffee at the same time.

Some restaurants and other eating places have been serving second cups of tea or coffee if the patron was willing to pay for a second order of the beverage.

"Eating establishments must not serve an individual with more than one cup of tea or coffee at one sitting, and need not reduce the price of the meal in cases where it had been the custom to serve more than one cup," the board said.

The order says no public caterer or operator of an institution shall use more than one individual tea bag or the equivalent in loose tea, for each serving.

Persons over 12 years of age who live in institutions, hotels and boarding houses for longer than a week must surrender coupons for their tea or coffee rations.

The car of the future will have an air-cooled motor, concealed under the rear seat, designers predict.

Rationing Order Comes Suddenly

One Ounce of Tea a Week Or 4 of Coffee Choice For Canadians' Beverage

OTTAWA (CP)—The war hit close to home today for Canadians as tea and coffee went on Canada's lengthening ration list along with sugar and gasoline, leaving them less of the meal-time beverages to drink than the people of embattled Britain.

New regulations, announced Sunday night by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, limit each person to one ounce of tea or four ounces of coffee a week—but not both. That cuts Canadian tea consumption per capita below that of the United Kingdom, where tea-loving Britons get two ounces a week with no ration on coffee.

Canadians are on a par with Britons when it comes to sugar, which was rationed for the first time in Canada a month ago. The unit here is eight ounces a week, the same as in Britain.

It was not known immediately how the beverage restrictions would apply to persons taking their meals in restaurants, and whether members of the armed forces would come under the regulations.

New Ration Makes 12½ Cups a Week

The board estimated the ration allotment of tea or coffee for each person would make about 12½ cups a week, but the quantities used by each individual would vary that figure somewhat.

For the next five weeks the ration coupons to be used are the "A-B-C-D-E" coupons issued when rationing of sugar went into effect. The sugar ration tickets, numbered 1 to 5, are at the bottom of the card.

After Sept. 8, the board said, there will be permanent coupon ration books.

"Each one of the lettered coupons," the board statement said, "entitles the ration card holder to one ounce of tea or four ounces of coffee a week, but not both."

All five ration coupons may be used immediately.

"Ration cards issued for children under 12 cannot be used for tea and coffee purchases."

The maximum quantity of tea which can be purchased on one ration card up to September 8 is five ounces, or 5-16ths of a pound. Even three ration cards in a family will not permit the purchase of a one-pound package. Twenty ounces of coffee may be purchased on one card—a pound and a quarter.

Equal Distribution— One Ration Object

"Equitable distribution and prudent conservation of existing supplies are the objectives of the tea and coffee rationing," the board said.

"The rationing plan is designed to ensure all tea and coffee drinkers getting a fair share and, at the same time, to guard against any failure of supply during the next several months, when it is expected further supplies will be obtained from abroad."

"The limited supplies of tea on hand and restricted prospects of new shipments result from the fact that pre-war Harbor sources of supply in the Netherlands East Indies and Malay are cut off by enemy occupation, while Ceylon and India, the major sources of supply, are in a theatre of war more than 8,000 hazardous miles from Canada.

"The difference in the rations of tea and coffee—one ounce of tea as against four ounces of coffee—are attributed to the fact that more coffee by weight is required to make a cup of beverage than is required with tea. Also, there is the fact that the supply problem in the case of tea is more acute than with coffee, which may be obtained from South America over a shorter, but just as hazardous, route."

The board said it was realized the tea and coffee ration "means a considerable sacrifice for a large majority of Canadians," but expressed confidence Canadians "are ready for belt-tightening because they realize the life-and-death nature of the struggle and the seriousness of the shipping situation."

Existing Supplies Must Be Stretched

The lettered coupons marked from "A" to "E" which will be used for tea and coffee rationing in the five weeks until permanent ration books are issued were placed on the temporary ration cards for use in a possible emergency. They were called into use "because the existing tea and coffee supply position indicates that steps have to be taken to make the existing supplies stretch over a longer period."

"The alternative would have been to continue at the present rate of consumption with the possibility of supplies, especially of tea, running short," the statement said.

What the Masses Say

Britain's 'Little People' Demanding 2nd Front

By DREW MIDDLETON
LONDON (AP)—The men and women of Britain who do the fighting and the dying are willing and anxious to open a European front this year.

Instinctively they feel it must be done.

They realize the cost in blood far better, you suspect, than some members of the government. But deep within them is an abiding belief that this war can only be ended with a victory for the British army on the continent.

I encountered this feeling on a tour through Britain. In railroad trains, in factories, in shops, in quiet country pubs and noisy city restaurants it was a vital subject of conversation. Soldiers, sailors and airmen held the same view as farmers, munition workers and fishermen.

These sentiments echo the editorials of Lord Beaverbrook's powerful Daily Express and Evening Standard.

The idea was born, you feel, the day the Germans turned east and fell on the Russians.

The man in the street went back to elementary strategy that day. When the fellow you're fighting turns away and starts to swap punches with someone else, he reasoned, you don't just stand there. You fetch him a clump behind the ear.

Since that day, no amount of admissions about shipping shortages or the need to hold the Middle East has diminished the will of these people to open a European front as soon as possible. Last year they knew it was impossible. This year they are convinced it can be done.

I asked about the mass air raids on Cologne, the Ruhr and other German areas.

People seemed to take the mass raids calmly. Perhaps it is because raids of more than 1,000 planes on five or six nights doesn't yet impress people who were bombed throughout an entire winter.

There was no feeling these raids would end the war or serve as an effective substitute for a European front.

NICKEL DIVIDENDS

NEW YORK (CP)—Directors of International Nickel Company of Canada today declared a dividend on the common stock of 50 cents a share in United States currency, payable Sept. 3 to shareholders of record Aug. 31. This is the 100th dividend on the common, and has been approved by the Canadian Foreign Exchange Control Board.

McNARY URGES GIANT PLANES

WASHINGTON (AP)—Declaring that Russia's demand for establishment of a 2nd fighting front in Europe can only be met by solving the problem of transportation, the Senate Republican leader, Charles McNary of Oregon, proposed Sunday that the United States embark immediately on the "bold venture" of constructing giant cargo-carrying planes.

Henry J. Kaiser, west coast ship builder, has proposed construction of 5,000 such planes in shipyards and chairman Donald M. Nelson said, "the War Production Board is prepared to operate to the limit" if materials can be found without disrupting the present military aircraft production program. McNary said, however, he believes an immediate start ought to be made, even if such a move causes some delay in shipbuilding and other activities.

"Russia is crying for a second front and our answer lies in transportation, because no new front can be undertaken unless we can sustain an army there with all its essentials," he declared.

Mass Meeting Votes

Big Montreal Crowd Asks New Front

MONTREAL (CP)—A resolution urging the Canadian government to declare its full support for the immediate opening of a second front was passed here Sunday at a mass second front rally in Fletcher's Field.

A cablegram was sent to Marshal Semeon Timoshenko, expressing the meeting's gratitude "for the courageous and self-sacrificing resistance of the heroic Red armies against our common foe" and pledging "every effort and sacrifice for a second front now to divert Nazi forces."

MESSAGE TO McNAUGHTON

Another cablegram was addressed to Lt. Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, Canadian army commander, saying "we assure you maximum striking power of Canada now available for a second front."

Frederick Meyers of New York, vice-president of the American National Maritime Union, told the rally that if shipping facilities are now lacking "it is not due to lack of tonnage." It is, he said, "due to failure to utilize fully existing bottoms... we are still carrying across the seas beer, bananas, ballast... despite all that we are maintaining thousands of miles of supply lines... a few more miles across the Channel cannot make much difference."

Mr. Meyers added that "what are mostly needed for invasion purposes are barges... and as for those thousands already on hand and thousands more may be built within a very short time."

TELEGRAM FROM MINISTER

Author Leslie Roberts and newsman Jean Louis Gagnon, rally co-chairman, read telegrams sent by the Chinese minister to Canada, Liu Shih-shun, and United States Senator Claude Pepper.

The Chinese minister said a second front is especially important in Europe at present owing to the "latest reports of a threatened invasion of Siberia."

Senator Pepper said "this is a war to the death... either the German world or ours will be destroyed... we must choose before it is too late."

Col. E. Mackay-Papineau, representing Defence Minister Ralston, did not speak on the second front, but urged members of the audience to enlist in the services.

Request Pensions Veterans' Widows

OTTAWA (CP)—Plea for continuation of pensions to widows of veterans who had received pensions of less than 50 per cent of the maximum payable was made in the Commons Saturday by J. R. MacNicol, Cdn., Toronto Davenport.

He expressed belief about 2,375 widows in this class were actually in need of pensions, the cost of which would be only $1,215,000 a year.

Pensions Minister Mackenzie said the Canadian Legion had asked the government to consider paying such pensions for widows on a compassionate basis. The pensions commission had been asked to make a study of the situation.

Mr. Mackenzie said 2,130 pensions had been granted veterans of the present war, 1,283 of which were disability.

Coldwell Deplores 'Old School Diplomacy'

OTTAWA (CP) — Possibility that a group of British members of Parliament of all parties might visit Canada to see the Dominion's war effort was suggested Saturday in the House of Commons by M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, who was one of a group of Canadian parliamentarians who visited Britain last year.

He suggested a vote of $5,000 in the estimates for hospitality to visitors from abroad would be inadequate for entertaining such a group.

"I would say the government would welcome any parliamentarian group from Great Britain which might come to Canada at this time," said Prime Minister King. He agreed the item in the estimates would not meet the situation, but said the government would make other provision.

Mr. Coldwell urged adequate salaries, expenses and superannuation for Canadian ministers abroad so that young men without means could rise by merit to occupy those positions. It was wrong to make it impossible for any but a rich man to hold a high diplomatic post.

"We have had too much old school diplomacy in all countries," he said. "We have had too much representation by wealthy aristocrats."

Manpower Problems 'Luxury' Trades In Britain To Be Reduced

By DOUGLAS AMARON
LONDON (CP)—Britain, after nearly three years of war, is beginning to feel the pinch of manpower as she mobilizes the forces and industry for a total effort.

Already more than two-thirds of the nation's 33,000,000 men and women of working age are engaged in some sort of employment or service. Millions more are providing accommodation for billeted persons or are doing voluntary work.

The government, being pressed by many quarters to open a second front, has to take into consideration this manpower problem in its plans for future operations, and there has been considerable evidence in recent weeks that every effort is being made to release more men for the fighting forces.

NEARING PEAK

Britain's industrial output, which has been growing by leaps and bounds since the fall of France, gradually is reaching its peak and the problem in factories now is to find replacements for workers called to the forces rather than get men and women for new factories.

This is being met partly by a drastic reduction of so-called "luxury" trades, and on one day alone last week 30,000 workers who were previously employed in manufacturing clothing, furniture and similar goods were transferred to war factories.

MORE WOMEN EMPLOYED
Labor Minister Ernest Bevin, disclosing the Labor Ministry is interviewing 50,000 women weekly and sending 20,000 a week into auxiliary services and industry, warned that as the war develops there will be further calls on the nation's manpower.

Home Secretary Herbert Morrison announced last week that civil defence general services will be reduced by one-third and that the number of whole-time men in the national fire service will be cut one-sixth. Most of the men released will be drafted into industry.

Reduction of such vital services at a time when bombs are again beginning to fall on Britain comes in the category of "drastic" moves, and Mr. Morrison himself said "there are elements of risk about it."

Women so far have been exempt from compulsory fire-watching duties, but Mr. Morrison hinted the government may soon bring them into this field of service.

Rapidly Removing Jews From Holland

LONDON (CP)—The German-controlled Netherlands radio Saturday night admitted for the first time the existence of German plans to deport all Jews from occupied Holland.

News of the deportation scheme, which would effect some 180,000 Netherlands citizens, was first made public last week, when it was learned deportations of Jews from the Netherlands to eastern Europe were proceeding at the rate of 600 a day.

The radio admission of the expulsion plan was made during an official Netherlands Nazi broadcast in which the speaker asserted Netherlands Jews were chiefly responsible for popular resistance to the German "new order."

The Nazi commentator declared the Jews, together with Radio Orange, the Netherlands station in London, were the chief "instigators" of armed resistance to the Germans.

Gallup Poll

Public Support Assured For Big Manpower Bill

PRINCETON, N.J.—On the eve of drafting a national war service bill under which the total manpower of the country, estimated at 60,000,000 labor units, would be mobilized in a total war effort, ordinary citizens of United States by an overwhelming majority, have indicated their approval of granting the government the power to take two sweeping and fundamental steps. Similar steps have long been implemented in Great Britain, and the government of Canada has such power.

The seriousness of the manpower problem can be seen by anybody who takes the trouble to study the classified advertisement pages of newspapers in war industry centres. There are columns of "help wanted" ads from factories seeking hundreds or even thousands of skilled workers of all types.

At present the War Manpower Commission under Paul V. McNutt is attempting to head off or remedy manpower shortages by means of appeals to workers on a purely voluntary basis.

The United States Employment Service, by statutory right, is examining selective service occupational questionnaires. Men listed as working in nonessential industries are interviewed and, if their experience is suitable, are urged to change their jobs to jobs in war industries.

However, when, as is often the case, the worker asks: "Do I have to do it?" all that the authorities can say at present is "No," since they have no power to make him change.

Often, too, the employer intervenes on behalf of the worker and insists that he must remain where he is.

The result is that only a very small proportion of workers interviewed by the authorities have consented to shift into war industries. This naturally raises the question whether such workers are unwilling to co-operate with the government in the interests of national defence.

A careful analysis of their point of view indicates that such is by no means the case. In this matter, as in many others involving sacrifice for war, the typical American takes the attitude that he is perfectly willing to make sacrifices if he feels that everyone else is also being called upon to make the same or an equivalent sacrifice.

Seattle Has Test Blackout

SEATTLE (AP)—Seattle held a one and one-half hour practice air raid test Sunday. The civilian defence system clicked almost to perfection in its most thorough test since the war started.

Sirens throughout the city, which is only eight hours' flying time from Kiska in the Aleutian Islands which the Japanese have occupied, sounded the alert at noon.

Air raid wardens, wearing white helmets and arm bands and carrying gas masks, immediately stopped traffic for five minutes and directed pedestrians to shelters. Congregations remained seated in churches and persons who were home went to their blackout rooms.

Squadrons of army planes roared overhead 10 minutes later, theoretically dropping explosive and incendiary bombs.

In all, 58,000 civilian defence workers participated in the test.

REAL SALVAGE

East and West never meet—this certainly applies to Salvage—not even half way.

Among the torrents of so-called "releases" over the Airways and Inkways the conditions in the West are disregarded by the releasers.

Let us disregard the East for the moment and let us tell you clearly that we call sell all the paper you can give us. We will collect it if it is carefully tied in tight packages. But it is impossible for us to prepare disordered paper for sale, owing to insufficient preparators.

Therefore we urge you to save paper, to tie it strongly, to accumulate with your neighbors a quantity sufficient to warrant a truck using gas and tires to come for it when in your neighborhood. Send us at the same time any brass and copper ornaments you can possibly spare.

Again disregarding the East let us make clear that pop bottle tops cannot be used in the West at present. We have 40 sacks of them lying in hope, unwanted at our depot, not because we asked for them but because of a burst of print-fire in the East that somehow ricocheted into this area.

Again disregarding remote emanations, this time from U.S.A., which revive hopes of salvaging empty cans, let us explain that so-called tin cans, being a combination of iron and tin, are united in wedlock which can only with great difficulty be set asunder, and there is none to undertake it nearer than San Francisco. Nor can we use sheet iron pans, toys, etc.

The greatest help we could receive at the present time is information as to where we can get heavy machinery, iron railings, tires and rubber; such information being of vastly greater value if accompanied by the written permission of the owner to remove such material.

Please ask your readers for such on our behalf.

RACIAL BARRIERS

By a plebiscite the people of Canada took down a bar which, in the opinion of our Prime Minister, had to be removed before he could enforce conscription for overseas service. But there remains a racial bar which we must abolish; let it now be put away with all other childish prejudices. Unless our representatives in the government of this British province are only "blind leaders of the blind" it must be clear to them that unanimous co-operation in that effort can be expected only after all laws favoring one race over others have been wiped off the slate. Since the day of William Wilberforce and Abraham Lincoln no free people will tolerate "Slave Laws." Yet such a law, the "B.C. Electoral Franchise Act," remains in force. At the next election Tim Buck will have a vote—Ben Quan will not.

Who is Ben Quan? The editor of the Victoria Daily Times gave him a word of praise for topping the list of students taking the recent university entrance exams, with a record of 96 per cent in all subjects. There are no racial barriers preventing any young man or woman from leading the way in our schools; but the clerk of the polls will turn down every Canadian-born of Chinese descent who tries to vote. We cannot call them "fellow citizens," for the "hall mark" of a free man—the ballot—is not theirs; in Great Britain, and in every other overseas Dominion, all native-born or naturalized persons of foreign extraction have that privilege, but in "English Victoria," disfranchisement, that badge of slavery, persists. Our good King has just headed a subscription for relief of Chinese sufferers in their own war-ravaged land; His Majesty looks on China as a friendly country which has been in the fight for world freedom ever since 1937. The veterans of the old war, when they petitioned our Ottawa government to stop the export of scrap iron, copper, lead and nitrates (the tools of murder in China) to Japan, were told, "We cannot stop it; Japan is a 'friendly country'." For five years, against awful odds, China has stood firm, our shield and buckler.

ADVERTISING MEN MEET AT JASPER

JASPER, Alta. (CP)—B. M. Carter, advertising manager of the Vancouver Daily Province, was elected president of Western Daily Newspaper Advertising Managers' Association at the annual convention which concluded here at the week-end.

Officers elected were secretary-treasurer, A. H. Middleton, Vancouver Sun; vice-president, F. Rex Werts, Vancouver News Herald; chairman of committees, general advertising, A. Hulme, Saskatoon Star; retail advertising, T. Dwan, Edmonton Bulletin; classified advertising, W. A. Patterson, Victoria Times.

Wesley McCurdy, president of Canadian Daily Newspapers Association and publisher of the Winnipeg Tribune, was guest speaker and spoke on wartime activities of the C.D.N.A. and the bureau of advertising.

He said the bureau and C.D.N.A. had co-operated with the different government departments in publishing war time activities.

"The efforts of the daily newspapers had earned not only the appreciation of the government but had once more proved the power of the press in bringing together a united people in an all-out war effort," he said.

The bureau of advertising was daily bringing to the attention of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board certain contentious problems for clarification, he added, and in every instance had been successful in having the issues classified.

'Canada' Handbook Selling Rapidly

The demand being so great only a few thousand copies of the official 1942 handbook, "Canada," remain to be distributed to the public, according to an announcement from the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. This year's edition, which has been available to the public for five months, features Canada's war effort.

The book is edited in such a way that it appeals to those interested in the Dominion's economic development, especially in the changing times through which the world is now passing. Applications for copies should be made to the Dominion Statistician, Ottawa.

Today's salesman WORKS FOR CANADA...

THE COMMERCIAL TRAVELLER today is doing a full time job for Canada. In days of peace his major job was the selling of goods. Now, it is his responsibility to see that wartime regulations and restrictions are understood and efficiently carried out.

His wide experience helps retailers function efficiently under trying conditions. His aid in the equitable distribution of rationed goods is invaluable and a definite insurance against shortages in isolated and rural areas and a check to panic buying and hoarding.

His keen judgment is at the disposal of the purchasing agents of rapidly expanding plants. He devotes much time to the problems of conservation so that the life of existing equipment may be prolonged and replacements curtailed. His ingenuity in suggesting alternatives for non-available standard materials averts many a production crisis.

Yes, the salesman today works for Canada, shepherding his territory so that all may share alike in the goods that are available, interpreting government regulations and policies from one end of the Dominion to the other.

40,000 strong, they are responsible for the distribution and sale of merchandise in every city, town, village and hamlet across Canada.

Today it is vital to Canada's war effort that this distribution and sale be more carefully coordinated than ever before. It is to this long established and well organized body that the country looks for a fair and just spread of available merchandise.

MONDAY, AUGUST 3, 1942

The Session

UNDOUBTEDLY THERE WERE TIMES during the session of Parliament just adjourned when it looked as if internal strife might interfere with and dislocate the nation's war effort. But it would appear that the majority of the members have gone home to the bosoms of their families fairly well convinced that Canada is pulling her full weight with the rest of the United Nations. The opposition, of course, is not satisfied. Oppositions never are; they would not be living up to tradition if they were. It is nevertheless a matter for mutual congratulation that what may be briefly described as the "conscriptio issue" did not produce half as much of the bitterness as was confidently anticipated.

His friends and opponents alike ascribe this to the adroit and careful manner in which Mr. Mackenzie King handled a delicate and difficult situation. Uninformed and irresponsible rhetoricians may not accept such an explanation; one or two newspapers continue to belabor the Prime Minister and prefer illogical reasoning to realities which even Conservative House leader Hanson does not blink at or try to minimize. One of the noteworthy contributions to the crucial debate was that from Mr. Cardin, the minister who left the government because he stubbornly differed with his leader, and part of it is worth recording here, since it would seem to remove all grounds for misgivings as the "conscriptio issue" bears on such future policies as the government may find it necessary to adopt. Here are Mr. Cardin's words:

"The minority cannot rule, but let me say in all kindness to the majority of this country that I recognize the sovereignty of the majority in Canada and the province of Quebec will submit to the legislation that is going to be passed. But if the minority cannot dictate its view to the majority, that majority should hesitate, should pause, before setting its iron heel upon the minority in the country. The people of the province of Quebec are law-abiding citizens. They have proved that in the past; they will prove it in this instance."

With the foregoing sentiments taken at their face value—and we fail to see any legitimate reason why they should not be so taken—those implacable critics who find it much simpler to dodge rather than tackle realities would be serving their country better were they to waste less time and energy with fault finding and apply a good deal more of it to constructive argument. No sensible person who takes the trouble to consider facts can justify continued repetition of the overworked cliché—that the present government at Ottawa is chiefly concerned with maintaining its political fences intact. If the oppositionists, be they members of Parliament or partisan newspapers, who harp on their advocacy of what they call a national government knew whom they would select to form such an administration, their point of view would surely manifest itself in public demonstration. We have not yet observed any substantial evidence of such popular demand.

Gratifying to note, incidentally, is the universal approval of Mr. Hiesley's budget. If any specific reflection of Canada's all-out war effort were needed to convince the skeptics, the Minister of Finance has brought it home to the Canadian people in all walks of life, and there should be no grumbling about it. It was well, too, that the Hongkong affair obtained a spirited airing in the House of Commons. But recognizing it as one of the "mischiefs of war"—and by how many of these has the Churchill government been plagued during the last two years!—should evoke the determination to prevent a repetition. The public naturally will carefully watch the government's conduct during the recess.

Tea and Coffee

THOSE CANADIAN TEA-DRINKERS who now find themselves obliged to curtail their use of "the cup that cheers and does not inebriate" should be able to find some comfort in the fact that the average larder in this country is almost as free of wartime restriction as is the North Pole of heat waves. One ounce of tea per person per week will be no hardship; it will simply mean that the housewife will measure every spoonful that goes into the pot. No longer will it be thrown in with a lavish hand; quite right, too. And if four ounces of coffee do not permit the customary daily libation, what matters it? There is always good Victoria drinking water.

Those inclined to grumble about the latest rationing by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board might well think of what the average citizen of the British Isles is cheerfully putting up with in these terrible days. Victorians with relatives in Britain can learn much from the letters they are receiving—how those people apply their inventive genius in an effort to impart a little variation to meagre rations that would make a poor imitation of the scantiest of Canadian meals. In the matter of food, and many other commodities, we in this country are far from even a nodding acquaintance of some of war's rigorous exactions.

Japs In the Aleutians

WITH THE UNITED STATES NAVY REPORTING 10,000 Japanese on the Aleutian Islands and Representative Anthony Dimond of Alaska saying there may be as many as 25,000, there naturally arises in the public mind the question as to why the invaders are not at once dislodged. It may be assumed that if there were no special difficulties, such as those arising from unique weather conditions, they would have been attacked and driven out before this. On this aspect of the matter, Major George Fielding Eliot recently published an extract from the United States Coast Pilot. It says:

"Fog is most prevalent during spring, summer and early fall, and it generally begins to clear about the middle of October. In summer fog is almost continuous, but few days are clear from morning to night, and the tops of the mountains can seldom be seen. At the surface of the water, it is generally sufficiently clear to make out the shore at a distance of three or four miles, but at times it is so thick that nothing can be made out. The most striking feature about the weather is its great uncertainty throughout the year."

With such conditions to combat, anything like an all-out attack on the Japanese positions on the islands, especially the use of air power, would seem to be out of the question. Perhaps in October, when the fog is due to lift, such operations will be feasible, although by then the cold weather will be another serious handicap. All of which shows how shrewd the Japanese were in getting a foothold in these islands just when they did. It probably will take much effort and a good many lives to get them out.

How About Rome Now?

AXIS PLANES DROPPED BOMBS ON Cairo last week. The damage done was more or less inconsequential; details of casualties, fatal and otherwise, were given scant notice. But Mr. Churchill already has been reminded of an old promise he made to both Hitler and Mussolini. On April 18, 1941, a special notice was issued from the Prime Minister's residence at No. 10 Downing Street, which warned that "a systematic bombing of Rome" would commence if either Athens or Cairo should be attacked from the air by Axis planes. As if to soften the announcement, however, Italians were assured that great care would be taken to avoid the destruction of historic monuments.

It may be a waste of time and too costly in men and machines for Britain to make good the official threat of more than 15 months ago. But if the Eternal City is allowed to go unscathed, and if the Muslim world should take serious exception to the damage, minor though it be, caused to their sacred city of Cairo, it will be interpreted by the totalitarian as a qualification of that part of Air Chief Marshal Harris's declaration of last Tuesday which implied a psychological as well as an intensified bombing war against the enemy. True, he was speaking specifically of scourging the Reich from "end to end," but what goes for the principal Axis partner's domain should go for that over which the deflated little man in Rome is presumed still to hold political sway.

Although Italy's role has ceased to be spectacular, so long as she remains a willing tool of her lord and master in Berlin, so long as her navy and air force operate, anything calculated to assist her complete downfall should not be overlooked. Rome, especially now Cairo has been bombed twice within a few days, should be recognized more definitely than ever as the capital of what is a Nazi province. Rommel's success in Libya and Egypt would not have been possible without Italian aid.

'Our Dear Son' Again

WHEN THE WORLD IS RID OF THE Nazi tyranny, and the United Nations begin to enforce the peace on the Axis powers, it is to be hoped some attention will be paid to Spain's General Francisco Franco. He figuratively wears the swastika on one arm and the sign of the fasces on the other; he is a nasty piece of work at best. Even the Pontiff may be regretting that he once alluded to him as "our dear son."

There is nothing much Franco can do either to hinder or endanger the democratic coalition in an important material sense; neither Germany nor Italy is in a position to use the Iberian Peninsula to much advantage at this stage without adding seriously to their own difficulties. But on all occasions when a speech is in order this Axis sycophant assails democracy and all it connotes with everything in his verbal arsenal. He used the formal announcement of Spain's new totalitarian-type Parliament—which will be convened next October—as justification for an assault on the political philosophy of the United Nations and on the Russian system in particular.

Franco sounds more than a little ridiculous when he boasts of his ability to mobilize a fully-equipped army of 3,000,000 men, if necessary, to fight Communism. And he did not improve his chances of liberal and democratic treatment at the peace table by declaring to the world that the totalitarian system had proved its superiority in war as well as in the solution of economic and social problems. His new Cortes, or Parliament, may be without party lines and subject solely to his will; but, on his own admission, "there are still many elements at work against the country"—against him, of course, would be a more accurate interpretation of conditions. That will be forcefully revealed to him in good time.

The Herr Doktor Goebbels is laughing at the idea of a second front in western Europe; but his smile is crooked anyway.

Idle Time Musings

From Our Vacation Philosopher
I KNOW about the little busy bee improving each shining hour. He must do his preserving to live through the winter, or to provide for the next generation of busy bees. I have considered the ant, too. He is terribly busy. The butterfly's way looks wiser to me. The butterfly is going to enjoy the summer while it lasts. Is it wise to be busy? It may well be doubted. The too busy are so apt to waste life storing instead of enjoying.

I never heard of a busy angel, nor of a heaven where there is any business. We must get all business done while serving our life term at hard labor. In heaven we will not have anything to do but enjoy ourselves. I have sometimes wondered if an eternal picnic would not become a bore in a trillion or so years.

BROWNING tells us about the fiends who weave ropes of sand rather than suffer hell in idleness. I wish I had time to look up the lines. I cannot imagine some people, after a life spent in labor, being willing to sit down idle in either heaven or hell, and not make money, or preparation for a rainy day.

It seems to me that it is best to form here those tastes and habits which will fit us for the enjoyment of eternity. I am sure that if I was walking on the golden streets, and hearkening to the cherubim, when the hunting season came near, the old fret would come over me and I would want to be out with my dog.

I have always thought that Lo, the poor Indian, had something on us when he made a place in his heaven for his dog, and when he called heaven the Happy Hunting Ground. He "thinks admitted to an equal sky," his faithful dog shall bear him company.

But if I should miss by a few demerits getting by the gate that St. Peter keeps and find myself in those regions where Gunga Din will be

Sitting on red-hot coals Giving drinks to poor damned souls when the brisk autumn days come, I will go out to where old Cerberus sits and wags his tail, and see if I can't interest him in a fishing party. We all think of eternity as a protraction of the pleasures we have grown wonted to in this little pilgrimage.

THERE will be politics in heaven for politicians, if politicians are admitted. There was once a revolt in heaven, so Milton sings, and Satan lost the election, with repercussions which were being discussed at the last protracted meeting I attended.

The people who speak with authority of the life we shall lead beyond the river seem to reserve heaven for the folks who failed to have any fun here, and hell for those who had too much fun here. My own feeling is that there is error in this idea. The way to have fun hereafter is to prepare by having fun here. Enjoying life is a habit.

The man who tried to make people happy is a greater benefactor to humanity than the men who tried to make them good. Many people seem to feel that the way to make people good is to take some sort of fun away from them. The reformer is a man who can't love us unless he can change us. I like people just like God made 'em. You'll enjoy life more if you take people like that.

A NEW FLOWER

Laura A. Planta of Nanaimo writes: "There has been found growing wild at Comox a little plant with blue flowers. Mrs. Ronald Stewart sent me some last year and I sent them to the Provincial Museum for identification. Mr. G. A. Hardy, the botanist, writes me that it is polygala vulgaris, and this is the first record of it in North America. It is a native of Europe, Russian Asia and Great Britain. I thought this very interesting to lovers of wild flowers and also to students of botany. Mrs. Stewart writes me that she first found it near Brooklyn Bridge it has traveled along the roadside and ditches as far as the post office and up by the United Church. Mr. Hardy says, 'fortunately it brings with it no name as a weed.'"

SELECTING JUDGES

From Toronto Saturday Night
We find it extremely significant that the British Columbia Law Society has gone on record as dissatisfied with the manner in which judges are selected, and has passed a resolution urging that the Minister of Justice accept a list of six names submitted by the benchers of the province and make no appointment outside of that list. Of the 182 lawyers present at the annual meeting only a few expressed disapproval of the resolution. No reference was made to any particular cases, but it is well known that not all the recent B.C. appointments have commended themselves to the majority of the provincial lawyers.

The resolution is probably intended more as a rebuke to the federal government than as a proposal for actual adoption. We should regret, and we think the lawyers probably would regret also, to see the benchers taking too much responsibility in the matter of the selection of judges. On the whole, the existing method works better than might be expected, but when a government becomes more solicitous about rewarding its supporters than about the character of the Bench, it needs to be sharply called to time.

Responsibility in India

From the New York Herald-Tribune

Maulana Abul Kalam Azad, the learned Arab theologian and revolutionary, who is president of the Indian nationalist congress, was quoted in dispatches recently as saying that the disturbing congress resolution, which demands immediate independence and threatens a "non-violent" revolt if it is not granted, was addressed as much to the United States as to any other power. He explains that since the United States is now sharing responsibility with Great Britain for the defence of India, this nation has a direct interest in the state of that country; and he goes on to say that the Indians look to the United States to influence Great Britain. It is unlikely that Washington will make any official comment on the threat to India's peace that Mr. Gandhi has just inspired. But since the Right Reverend, otherwise Maulana, Azad says that the Indians are looking to this country for moral support, it seems important to us that he should be assured through every possible unofficial medium that no class of Americans, except Axis sympathizers and professional Anglophobes, will have the slightest sympathy with the promotion of civil disorder in India in this critical hour.

Whatever India's grievances are, whatever justice there is in the congress' plea for independence, India is no worse off now than she was before the war. Mr. Gandhi and his colleagues are simply seizing what seems to them the most favorable opportunity to bid for untrammelled power through a strike. The Moslem minority, a solid and bellicose organization of 80,000,000, has already denounced the resolution; and the congress does not pretend to have reached an agreement with this or any other of many minority groups for a cooperative use of independence. A grant of it now would certainly mean graver disorder in India than the movement which Gandhi, Nehru and Azad threaten. All of these men know this, and it is extremely doubtful if they expect the British to be weak and foolish enough to accede to their demands, even though the United States were sentimental and shortsighted enough to urge such a course. As Mr. Geoffrey Parsons Jr. has said in his most recent dispatch from London, it looks as though these Indian politicians were exploiting the crisis to start an emotional furore and to recover their hold upon the Indian imagination; and this despite the Japanese threat of invasion, despite the reliance of the United Nations upon Indian industry, communications and upon a growing and zealous native defence organization and despite China's present dependence upon India as a supply base.

If for no other reason, the military expediency of keeping China supplied and reinforced from India must move every American who appreciates China's important place in all plans for defeating Japan to resist a threat from an irresponsible political clique to create confusion in their country. It is true that the United States has assumed some little responsibility for the defense of India, but this country would be discharging it very badly if it used its position there to forward the ambitions of opportunistic troublemakers to the detriment of the British and Chinese allies and to the great satisfaction of the Axis powers.

Make Milk Disease Free

From Greater Vancouver Health League

To understand the cardinal importance of pasteurization, it is necessary to understand the nature of milk and the steps by which it is delivered for human consumption.

First, it should be noted that milk is one of the best of all culture media for bacteria. It is not uncommon for bacterial counts to run as high as 30,000,000 colonies per cubic centimeter. From a human standpoint such bacteria may be beneficial, harmless or harmful. The harmful types include the organisms of the streptococcus and staphylococcus groups and of most contagious diseases. A few such bacteria, if introduced into milk, will grow and multiply with exceeding rapidity.

Secondly, it should be observed that virulent organisms may be introduced into milk by two agencies (1) by an infected animal and (2) by infected human handlers of the milk. The latter would include not only such direct contact as milking, but contamination of milking pails, separators, etc., by any human agency during the many steps between milking and bottling.

In regard to (1) cattle in the lower Fraser Valley are relatively but not absolutely free from tuberculosis. It is impossible to guarantee that any herd is free from tuberculosis. Milk from such cows is pooled with other milk, the organisms of tuberculosis multiply and spread through the entire pooled supply, and, if it is not pasteurized, it

When the New Liberalism Comes

From Vancouver Sun

Two leading Canadian provincial Liberal leaders took occasion recently to "sound off" on current problems. Neither was particularly constructive or helpful. "We have earned for ourselves, and rightly so, the utter contempt of our allies," said Mr. Hepburn of Ontario in a diatribe against Ottawa.

It would be difficult to design a statement more inept and untrue. The fact is that in the war Canada has done a very great and marvelous work; what she has accomplished is the wonder and the envy of her allies.

These same allies may have been more than a little puzzled concerning the convolutions of our conscription policy. But in making history of what Canada has done in the war—surely in this sphere we have reason to be proud, not ashamed, of our national effort. In spite of her failures Canada has done well.

It is easy, and characteristic, for Mr. Hepburn to claim "that Canada is governed by a group whose autocracy and stupidity are doing irreparable damage." The short reply is that Mr. Hepburn would probably have done far worse.

Now we come to British Columbia, where Mr. Pattullo has issued a pamphlet—"Whither the Liberal Party?" An interesting speculation, perhaps, but not immediately important.

Our friend Duff reports that in December last a coalition administration arrived on the scene. Naturally, Mr. Pattullo can see no good in that. He summarizes his feelings by declaring that an "anomalous situation" has thus been brought about.

Well, is that a cause for worry?

SAVING CATHEDRAL GROVE
From Vancouver Sun

A group of well-meaning citizens has been formed for the very laudable purpose of "Saving Cathedral Grove." No finer scenic attraction exists anywhere in British Columbia than this primeval forest, standing astride the highway to Alberni, in the shadow of Mount Arrowsmith. It would be a crime to devastate this area.

Cathedral Grove represents a tiniest fragment of vast holdings of an American company, a mere dot on the map of an empire of timber embracing much of the southern half of Vancouver Island. Quite true that, legally and by contractual rights, the owners can cut and remove Cathedral Grove and thus realize on their investment. But it would be an extremely foolish proceeding. The United States owns "invaded" British Columbia 40 years ago with an investment of millions of dollars, which provided employment then much needed in our industrial front. The company would not today, even if it is dominated by United States shareholders who have won substantial profits in other years in this province, authorize any act of vandalism such as the cutting of Cathedral Grove would mean.

Fortunately there is available an easy and satisfactory solution. On behalf of the propaganda for conservation, it is announced that the provincial government is "willingly, even anxiously, co-operative" in saving Cathedral Grove. If these words have any real meaning, it will be a comparatively simple matter for the provincial government to arrange an exchange of Cathedral Grove timber for an equal stumpage in another adjacent area.

Little has been heard from Mons. Laval since the memorable utterance, "I want Germany to win." After all, what more is there to say?

The chickadee is a squirrel.

We are in for many anomalous situations. And many headaches! "It has been the purpose of the C.C.F. to drive the Liberals and Conservatives together," suspects Mr. Pattullo—and our reply is "What of it?"

The Sun thinks that for the period of the war it is a good place for the Liberals and Conservatives to be—that is, together. They can not waste time in senseless argument and strife. You could apply the same argument in Ottawa, except that there was more good timber in the Conservative column in British Columbia, comparatively, than in Ottawa. And in British Columbia the government of the day had been defeated and could not continue to function with Mr. Pattullo in the saddle—which he was out of, by the way.

While in Ottawa there was no working alternative to Mr. King, Mr. Pattullo is feeling badly because the Liberal party which deserted him went into a coalition and he thinks it was thus "considerably weakened." Duff is also worrying because he feels that after the war there will be a political deadlock between two extremes.

There will be many deadlocks after the war, Friend Duff. Wagons of them! Let's win the war first. We can best do that by doing as we are now doing—supporting a practical coalition which has no patronage debts to pay, and which can effectively represent all the people in helping the federal administration to get on with the war.

When peace comes there will be a new Liberalism triumphant in the world, broader and better than anything Mr. Pattullo dreams of today.

HOW U.S. SHIPS ARE NAMED
L.H.R. in New York Times

Battleships are named for States and cruisers for large cities, as any civilian knows. Destroyers bear the names of persons distinguished in naval or marine history, the christening being done when possible by relatives of those persons. Carriers, the Lexington, for example, are named for historic naval vessels or for famous battles; submarines for fish; minesweepers for birds; seagoing gunboats for small cities, and river gunboats for islands. Submarine tenders preserve the memory of pioneers in submarine development. Repair ships draw their names from mythology. Oilers have names of rivers, cargo ships of stars, destroyer tenders of natural areas of the United States.

Taking Laxatives?

TRY LEMON IN WATER...with or without soda

Make it your "regular" rule
If you take laxatives, or if you should see if this moderate method does not prove effective for you.

First or last thing daily, do this: Into a tall glass half full of water, put 1/4 to 1/2 teaspoon of baking soda (bicarbonate). Slowly add juice of one Sunkist Lemon. Drink as foaming quies.

Or you may find you prefer only the lemon juice in a full glass of water. Try it in days. See if you don't become fast when you make it your "regular" rule.

WEDDINGS

JEUNE-GALLAHER

A Victoria man was bridegroom at a wedding at Holy Trinity Cathedral, New Westminster, Saturday evening at 7.30 o'clock, when Katharine Jean, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Gallaher, 805 London Street, New Westminster, and Ronald Frederick Jeune, only son of Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Jeune, 1560 Gladstone Avenue, were united in marriage by Rev. Canon Plaskett.

The bride was given away by her father and wore a rose silk print with navy redingote and a wide-brimmed navy straw hat, and a corsage bouquet of white stocks and sweet peas. Miss Edna McKenzie of Nelson was bridesmaid in a beige and navy print dress, beige redingote and matching turban. Mr. Graham McCall of Victoria supported the groom, and Mr. Lorne Rowbottom, Victoria, and Mr. Bill Reid, Hedy, were ushers. A reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Jones, New Westminster.

The honeymoon will be spent in Victoria, for which the bride wore a dusty green sheer wool crepe saddle-stitched in brown wool, with a brown straw hat and matching accessories.

FOXGORD-MARKEVICH

The marriage between Tillie Theresa Markevich and Maurice A. Foxgord was solemnized at the United Centennial Church, Saturday evening at 8.

The bride, given in marriage by Mr. Dexter Lewers, wore a wedding gown of white sheer, floor-length with long full sleeves, Peter Pan collar and shirred bodice. Her long embroidered veil fell from a cap, especially made in the form of a V for Victory. She carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses, and white heather.

Attending her as maid of honor was her sister, Miss Ann Markevich, in a long gown of pale yellow-sheer, with a picture hat of embroidered net. Her bouquet was of yellow gladioli and pink carnations. Her bridesmaid, Miss Violet Harrison, wore pale blue sheer with matching hat of embroidered net, and carried a Victorian posy. Acting as flower girl, Shirley Harrison looked sweet in pale pink organdy and carried a colonial bouquet.

The best man was the groom's cousin, P. O. James Haggart, R.C.N.R. Mr. George Wellburn and Mr. John McIvor acted as ushers.

At the reception, held at the home of the groom, the guests, numbering 70, were welcomed by the bridegroom standing before the fireplace, which was banked with ferns and flame gladioli.

THE "WAREHOUSE"

1429 DOUGLAS STREET 1115 GOVERNMENT STREET

Mrs. F. W. Harrison, the groom's mother, wore a floor-length black gown, with beaded jacket and a corsage of gardenias.

The bride's table, covered with a lace cloth, was decorated with pink snapdragons in cut glass vases and tall candles of yellow glowing in silver holders. The toast was proposed by Mr. Lewers. The many beautiful and useful gifts were displayed in the billiard room, where music and dancing was enjoyed by old and young. Among the gifts was a silver snack tray, suitably engraved, from the Victoria Motor Cycle Club, of which the groom is a member.

For a honeymoon on the mainland, the bride left in a brown tailored suit with a light stripe, and white accessories, wearing a corsage of gardenias.

Mr. and Mrs. Foxgord, on their return, will take up residence in their new home on Wilkinson Road.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Victor Jaynes, aunt and uncle of the groom, from Vancouver, and Miss Millicent Fox, Duncan, B.C.

The couple was unattended.

A small reception was held for relatives and friends at the home of the bride's parents, where Mrs. Meagher received in a navy blue redingote over a printed dress, with navy blue accessories and a corsage of talisman roses. The young couple stood between baskets of gladioli to welcome their guests, and supper was served at a table decorated in the color scheme of pink and white, centred with the wedding cake. Mr. Donald K. Smyth sang the solo, "Through the Years," during the reception.

The bride donned a blue and grey tuxid suit with blue accessories, for a honeymoon to be spent on the mainland. Mr. and Mrs. Martin will make their home at 1221 Rockland Avenue.

A quiet wedding was solemnized at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. James Hood, 465 Grafton Street, Esquimalt, between Mr. Peter Brogan of the City Welfare Department, and Mrs. Violet Dawson Curtis, Pembroke Street, Victoria, yesterday afternoon.

LARSON-STRONG

The marriage was solemnized Saturday evening at 8 in the First Baptist Church between Muriel May, only daughter of Staff-Sergt. Strong (who is serving overseas) and Mrs. J. C. Strong, 1017 Kings Road, and L.A.C. James M. Larson, R.C.A.F., eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Larson, Pontrilas, Sask. Rev. G. A. Reynolds performed the ceremony.

In the absence of her father the bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Corporal Ralph Strong, Sooke. She wore a floor-length white taffeta dress, with square neckline and long sleeves pointed at the wrist, while her silk embroidered veil fell from a tiara of seed pearls into a train. She carried a bouquet of pink rosebuds, white heather, carnations and gladioli, and wore a three-strand necklace of pearls. Her cousin, Miss Doris Brewster, Vancouver, was the only attendant, wearing a floor-length sky-blue frosted organza dress, with jacket, short sleeves and blue lace mitts. A tulle bandeau trimmed with pink carnations formed her headpiece and she carried a bouquet of pink carnations and white sweet peas. Another cousin, Mr. Thomas Ord, was groomsmen, and Cecil Lewis, R.C.A.F., and James G. Edwards, R.C.A.F., acted as ushers.

A reception was held at the Royal Bank Hall, Cook Street, where Mrs. Strong welcomed the guests dressed in a navy blue silk jersey dress, with touches of white and a wide-brimmed navy blue felt hat. Her corsage bouquet was pink rosebuds. Detective Fearon Woodburn proposed the toast to the bride. She gave her bridal bouquet to her mother, as the day coincided with her 27th wedding anniversary.

The bride's grandmother, Mrs. I. Easton, assisted in receiving the guests. The three-tiered cake centred the lace-covered table, with ivory tapers in silver holders.

The bride and groom left on the midnight boat for Vancouver, en route to Pontrilas, Sask., where they will spend their honeymoon with the groom's parents. A dusty pink silk dress with lace insets was the choice of the bride for her honeymoon, over which she wore a cinnamon-colored coat with bleached fox collar, and a small close-fitting hat and accessories to match.

Gala Fete Proceeds To Aid Prisoners And Bombed-out

As more and more stalls and amusements kiosks are planned, the picture of Government House grounds as they will appear for the grand garden gala being held there on Aug. 12 grows in beauty and interest.

There are some 30 stalls in all and almost as many marquees and kiosks. Each one has a distinct individuality and has been planned with a view to emphasize the purpose for which it is to be used. The whole gala, so far as the laying out of the grounds and buildings is concerned, is under the supervision of a specialist in such fair-ground arrangements.

IN ADOBE HOUSE

Fruits and vegetables fresh from the orchards and gardens of Vancouver Island will be sold by Miss F. Fitzgibbon, assisted by Lake Hill, Gorge, Sidney, Cordova Bay, Columbia, Royal Oak and Pythian Sisters units of the Red Cross. This stall has been built to represent a Mexican adobe house, and all assistants will be in Mexican costume. The fruits and vegetables will be displayed most artistically in the Mexican way on shelving racks. After seeing the architect's plan of this stall with the fruits and vegetables shown in colors, one realizes that we did not appreciate the beauty of the humble carrot, the succulent marrow and the rosy-cheeked apple.

"Whirlaway," the horse which is being raffled for the Red Cross, is not the "Whirlaway" that is making such a sensation in the United States at this time, but a beautiful bay gelding saddle horse. It is hoped and believed that he will, like his famous namesake, bring a lot of money for the Canadian Red Cross and it is certain that he will also bring joy to the happy man, woman or child who wins him.

The prizes to be won in the grand tombola now number more than 40 and more are being added each day. Tickets are selling well and can be obtained for the different contests and for admission to the gala from the Red Cross District Centre, 1162 McClure Street, E8922, Red Cross Office, 602 Broughton Street, B3159, Red Cross Superfluties Store, 1220 Government Street, E8913, or from any of the Red Cross units.

FOR PRISONERS OF WAR

Information concerning any aspect of the gala can be obtained by telephoning E8922 or calling at 1162 McClure Street between the hours of 9.30 and 4 each day. Mrs. H. S. Beckton and Miss E. M. Macrae are in charge. The gala fete is being given to aid the Canadian Red Cross in its humanitarian work of sending assistance to the bombed-out victims in Great Britain and parcels to the Canadian and other British prisoners-of-war in Germany and Italy. Since the first of January to the end of June this year, Canadian Red Cross has sent more than 900,000 parcels to the boys in German and Italian prison camps. To cope with the increasing demand, the Red Cross has now opened a new packing plant in Hamilton, Ontario, where 20,000 parcels will be packed each week to supplement the work of the packing plant at Toronto and Montreal.

Britannia Lodge L.O.B.A. met recently, a Leask presiding, assisted by Mrs. F. Cooke. Plans were made for a picnic to be held at Willows Beach, Wednesday, Aug. 12, members bring own basket, and sugar and tea will be provided. Next regular meeting Sept. 1 at 7.30.

Sunshine Camp's Nursery Is Busy

Last Tuesday was a very busy day at Sunshine Camp, for the first group of mothers and children changed places with the second group. The happy new arrivals tumbled out of the bus and wanted to be shown everything by those who were waiting to depart. A very great deal was crammed into those short moments, but nobody was left behind.

At present, the nursery is a very important place, for there are eight small babies among the campers. The mothers do enjoy comparing notes on the development of their infants while they are bathing the babies and preparing their formulas.

In past years various groups have added greatly to the pleasure of the campers by going to Sunshine Camp and providing an evening's entertainment. Due to the rationing of gasoline and tires and the extra demands the war has placed on all these pleasant times have been omitted this season, and greater emphasis is placed on the campers making their own entertainments and bringing out their own talents. The evenings slip by all too quickly.

The present campers, 13 mothers and 36 children, will return to Victoria Aug. 11, when a group of elderly women will go to Sunshine Camp for their holiday.

Writes Obituary Of Social Page

By RUTH COWAN
WASHINGTON (AP)—Is the society page a war casualty? The Washington Post believes it is, and has junked the word "society" for the duration—maybe longer.

Perhaps never before in the history of journalism, concedes Casey Jones, managing editor of the Post, has a newspaper on its main "society page" played up the doings of a queen alongside the achievements of girls at work in greasy overalls who had never been listed in the social register.

That is what the Post did recently. Why? Well, explained Jones, it is a matter of getting a 1942 wartime viewpoint on people—people, not just society with a capital "S"—in Washington.

Hope Ridings Miller, Post society editor, in a story, "Farewell to Society," wrote: "It is high time somebody steps out and puts Washington's prewar social picture where it belongs in a wartime capital."

She said she feared society reporters have been writing "to please that comparatively small group that makes up so-called society, rather than to interest the thousands of other readers who are just as important in the Washington scene."

Finds Wedding Ring Buried in Sand

Mrs. F. C. Pearce had a very pleasant surprise this week, when her little granddaughter found in the sand at Point Holmes her wedding ring, which had been lost for a year. At Point Holmes, where Mr. and Mrs. Pearce have a summer cottage, Mrs. Pearce lost her ring on the beach some time last summer. This year that one chance in a million turned up, and the ring was found buried in the sand, not so very far below the surface.

REVIVING GARDENIAS

After wearing a gardenia all evening it is drooping and wilted. The usual method of cutting the stem and putting it in water does not help much in this case. Instead of doing this, try submerging the flower in a vase of cold water. The next morning the blossom will be as full and fresh as ever. The same process can be repeated after wearing the gardenia that day. In this way the flower can be worn three times instead of only once.

Mrs. Natalie Yates, 26, has a score to settle with the Axis. Her husband, Capt. Jules D. Yates of the U.S. Coast Artillery, has not been heard from since before the fall of Corrigedor, so Mrs. Yates has been sworn in as an officer candidate of the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps.

MRS. JACK HUTTON, the former Nellie Frances Thomson, photographed in her bridal gown after her recent wedding at Fairfield United Church. She is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Thomson, and the groom the elder son of Mr. J. H. Hutton.

150 Women Handle Magazines for the Boys

By FRANK LOWE

Newsboys on a bigtime scale, 150 Halifax women have been busy for more than two years supplying thousands of magazines and papers to the men of the armed services.

Called the Central Magazine Exchange, their organization was the first voluntary war work taken on by women of this port and has expanded to meet the needs of the growing navy, army, air force and merchant navy.

From their rooms in a warehouse perched on Halifax's waterfront reading material for these men is routed to army outposts, to air force stations, to service hospitals and to corvettes and destroyers of the Canadian navy.

Overseas forces are also kept happy with a constant supply of Canadian periodicals, but the men sailing with the merchant marine get first call. Though the women claim they play no favorites, the biggest bundles sent out usually are headed for ships and hostels of the civilian sailors.

Figures bear this out. In an average week some 32,000 magazines are distributed with the merchant navy receiving some 14,000 of them. The army gets about 12,000, the navy 4,000 and the air force and women army corps the remainder.

Reading tastes of the Dominion's fighting population are amazingly good, the women claim, saying the better type periodicals are the favorites. However, pulp-thrillers have a steady clientele while picture magazines are always in demand.

Weddings

BITTNER-HAWTHORN

On Saturday evening, at St. John's Church, at 7.30, Rev. George Biddle united in marriage Gladys, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Hawthorn, 143 Wellington Avenue, and Corl. Ralph W. Bittner, R.C.A.P.C., in the presence of a large assembly of relatives and friends.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and wore a gown of white embroidered organdie, fashioned with a long-sleeved bodice and skirt ending with a short train. Over this was draped a filmy veil attached to her head with a headress of white flowers. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and white heather. She wore a brooch worn by her grandmother on her wedding day.

She was attended by Miss Hilda Gallop, who wore a frock of pink eyelet embroidery, the bodice of which had short sleeves, while she wore a doll's hat of pink and white flowers and organdie, and carried a bouquet of pink and white blooms.

There were two flower girls in attendance, Norma and Barbara Graves, who wore long frocks of apple green and pale yellow organdie, respectively, and on their heads fresh flowers. They carried Victorian bouquets.

The best man was Signalman William Hawthorn, R.C.N., while the ushers were Sgt. H. V. Thompson, R.C.A.P.C., Sgt. B. J. A. McKenzie, R.C.A.P.C., L.A.C. Robert Fleming, R.C.A.F., and Mr. Spencer Aspinwall.

Following the marriage service, a reception was held in the K. of P. Hall, Broad Street, where a profusion of flowers were effectively arranged, and where the guests were welcomed by the bride party standing under a trellised arch and wedding bell of white flowers.

Mrs. Hawthorn, mother of the bride, wore a gown of royal purple velvet, with touches of gold, a straw hat to match and a corsage bouquet of Talsman roses. Mrs. Hawthorn was assisted in welcoming the guests by her cousin, Mrs. E. Mardell, who wore a white and pastel floral dress with a corsage bouquet of yellow roses and a white hat.

Dancing followed the reception, and refreshments were served from a table centred with the wedding cake and decorated with roses. Corp. and Mrs. Bittner left for the mainland to spend their honeymoon, and will make their home in Vancouver. For traveling the bride donned a wool suit in a pink and blue mixture, with pink and blue accessories and a corsage bouquet of pink roses. Mrs. E. Guthrie and Miss Denise Guthrie of Vancouver were out-of-town guests at the wedding.

A banquet in honor of A. N. Jarvis, St. John Ambulance first aid instructor, was held by the F.O.E. Friday night at the organization's own hall. Decorated and served by members of the women's auxiliary, the affair was held in appreciation of the work that Mr. Jarvis has done in connection with A.R.P. undertakings in teaching and training members in first aid work.

"Liberty, truth, justice and equality... those are what we are fighting for," said F. Bridge-wood, in an address after the dinner.

He thanked those doing such splendid work both for the club and for the city with their A.R.P. and other activities.

It was announced the examinations for first aid will be held tonight at 7.30 in the Eagles' Home on View Street.

'Miss Canada' Makes Hit in Alberni

Two charming blond misses garbed in the Miss Canada uniforms of red, white and blue and under the direction of the Alberni district and west coast unit of the National War Finance Committee, successfully sold war savings stamps and certificates at a street dance in Port Alberni on Saturday night.

Miss Canada's have become a well-known sight on the mainland at the races and other places where the public gather and have proved a huge success. So far the Alberni district is the only place on the island where Miss Canada's have been in evidence, and the local committee were very agreeably surprised at the results, and in future Miss Canada will be in demand at all functions and gatherings.

Miss Canada wears a blue glen-garry, white dress and red apron. The apron has three pockets, one for stamps and certificates, one for cards to which the stamps are attached, and one for change. She mingles with the crowd and persuades everyone possible to lend their money to the government in exchange for war savings stamps and certificates to hasten victory.

HOPES of Vancouver promoter Jack Price to match Kenny Lindsay with bantamweight champion Lou Salica for a title match in the mainland city, Labor Day, went plop Friday night on the good, solid right hand of Tony Olivera. The San Francisco boy beat the pride and joy of Vancouver because he could hit harder and use his right hand to better advantage. There had been a lot of pre-flight claims by Lindsay's manager, Arnold Bertram, that his boy had learned how to throw a right-hand punch. After listening to a broadcast of the scrap we formed the opinion Lindsay still has to be taught how to use that right hand. The Vancouver boy's best weapon against Olivera was a left jab to the mid-section, but it was not potent enough to win him the decision. And you can bet your last dollar Olivera had a good big margin or he would never have received the nod.

In New York, Friday night, that pride of Harlem, Sugar Ray Robinson, marked up his 122nd ring victory at the expense of lightweight champion Sammy Angott. Just proof that Angott should not give away speed, punch, weight, height, reach and age to the skinny Negro boy. Spiller Angott has climbed out of the resin innumerable times, but he just couldn't pull this one out of the fire. But Angott put on a great show and just wouldn't drop despite being clipped time after time with whistling right crosses. Robinson has come a long way in recent months and looks like he is a cinch to cop the welterweight title now adorning the brow of Red Cofreane, a member of the United States navy.

Big shots of the professional golf world certainly hit their heads against a stone wall in that recent Tam O' Shanter tournament at Chicago which saw such noted stars as Joe Kirkwood and Tommy Armour disqualified because they refused to wear numbers while playing. George S. May of the Tam O' Shanter club just told the boys to wear numbers "or else" and refused to back down from his decision. Kirkwood objected to the number business, declaring he would not be a "circus horse" for anybody. "Nobody can tell me what to wear," declared Armour. Well they didn't wear the numbers but they also didn't finish the tournament and both had fair scores and a chance to get in on the money. From this corner it looks like both Kirkwood and Armour think a little too highly of themselves. It would not have hurt either one of them to wear a number and did not lower the standard of golf. The tournament got along quite nicely without the pair. And, after all, what satisfaction did Kirkwood and Armour derive from their action except maybe to uphold their own personal feelings?

Mrs. Jessie Mackenzie, Victoria's well-known woman trainer of racehorses, cracked down with a winner last week at Hastings Park, when Craig An Ariff proved a surprise. Johnny Parkwell-known Vancouver racing scribe, pays tribute to the little old lady with the following comment:

"It was without question one of the most popular victories scored by any stable since horse racing came to Minoru Park back in 1909.

"Men-trainers, generally speaking, waste little time worrying or thinking about their rivals in the supposedly weaker sex, but with Jessie Mackenzie it's different.

"Mrs. Mac hasn't an enemy in the world so far as she knows. She's had her 'ups and downs' around the island and lower mainland tracks in the past 20 years. Horses mortgaged, feed and straw credit exhausted; the odd meal postponed and her runners slowing up to such an extent that track operators refused to advance shipping money to transport them to and from Victoria.

"But the little woman refused to whimper or throw in the towel. She always managed to get to the races in the summer time.

Her little Jim-Rogan, not so many years ago was the toast of Vancouver and Victoria half-milers. He would skim along the rail, scraping the paint off the fence and earn enough money to pay operating expenses. He was a gem of consistency.

R.A.F. Sports Meet

J. Thorner Champion

Democracy in action... officers and airmen of the R.A.F. running side by side in an afternoon of sports.

It was the first annual track and field meet of Patricia Bay's R.A.F. station Saturday on the unit's sports field.

The English athletes, cheered on by their brothers in arms, visiting army and R.A.F. officials, and a large crowd of civilians, competed in a well-balanced program of events in keen yet friendly rivalry.

The sports were run off by the house system. The entire station had been divided into four groups; the Reds captained by Squadron Leader D. M. Brown; the Golds by Squadron Leader E. W. L. May; the Blues led by Squadron Leader C. R. Elgar; and the Greens by Wing Commander L. Gibson. Eliminations were held during the previous week.

Squadron Leader Brown's Reds captured the house cup with 55 points. The Blues weren't far behind with 48. The Golds came next on the list with 35 and the Greens were a close fourth with 31.

THORNER SCORES

Two hundred and five pounds of tanned brawn, measuring six feet four inches in height, viz., Oxonian Jack Thorner, was the individual champion of the meet. Sgt. physical training instructor of the station, Thorner of the Reds, placed first in the discus throw and the running broad jump, and second in the 100 and 220 yards dashes, earning himself a total of 16 points.

Next in line, with 11 points each, were Sgt. Jeffries and A.C. Witham. Jeffries won the 220 yards dash and the 100 yards low hurdles and came fourth in the century sprint, while Witham placed second in the 880 yards run, the javelin throw and the running broad jump, and third in the 12-pound shot put.

One point behind in third place were Sgt. Spiers and L.A.C.

R.A.F. Sports Meet

J. Thorner Champion

Gorton, the officer won the 12-pound shot put and the javelin throw, while Gorton put on a spectacular show in winning the 880 yards run and the mile. In both runs he trailed the field until the last lap, when he drove for the front, finishing on top with colors flying.

Cpl. Samuels collected nine points for the next position. He won the 100 yards dash and came third in both the 220 and the 100 yards low hurdles. Aircraftman Campton was one point behind, winning the three-mile dash and coming second in the mile. A.C. Hughes had seven points to come next to Champion. He won the 440 and came third in the 100 yards dash.

PADRE THROWS DISCUS

One of the most popular contestants was Sgt. Ldr. May, captain of the Golds, who is the station padre. Cheers came from all sides when he got in line for the discus throw. He placed third.

Mrs. L. S. Stevenson, accompanied by Air Vice-Marshal Stevenson, Air Officer Commanding, Western Air Command, presented the trophies and prizes at the conclusion of the meet, and was accorded three rousing cheers.

In the evening a dance was held in the recreation hall with the station dance band on the stand.

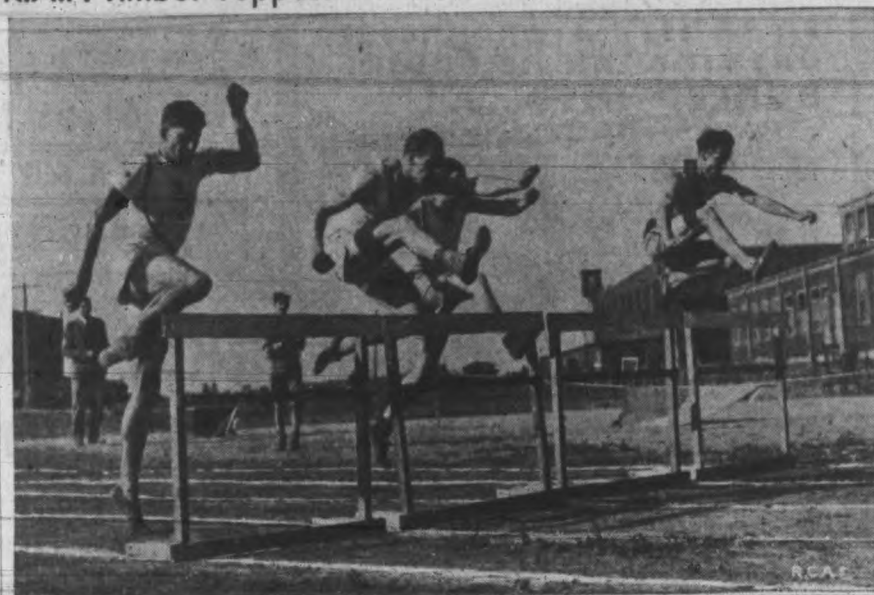

Alan Macey Winner Colwood Golf Title

Alan Macey won the championship of the Colwood Golf Club Sunday, defeating the veteran Frank Thomas 3 and 2 over 36 holes.

At the end of the first 18 holes Macey held a 1-up margin, and the match was close all the way until Macey closed it out on the 18th green.

D. Elford won the first flight from R. Dunnett 4 and 3, while E. L. Aubel captured the second from L. Stapleton 2 up, and R. Burland took the third from R. L. Shaw 4 and 3.

R.A.F. Timber Toppers

Above action took place at the first annual track and field meet of the R.A.F. at Patricia Bay Saturday afternoon as the airmen completed in the 100-yard low hurdles. From left to right the jumpers are: Cpl. Samuel, Sgt. Ldr. Jeffries, the winner, A.C. Stepanion, A.C. Brumby who finished second.

Y' Tracksters Sweep Events

VANCOUVER (CP) — Coach Archie McKinnon's squad of athletes, representing the Y.M.C.A. of Victoria, all but swept the boards at the 56th annual Caledonian Games held here Saturday under the auspices of the St. Andrew's and Caledonian Society of Vancouver.

W. Clarke, Victoria, placed first in four of the events in which he competed. He ran the 440-yard open dash in 56.8, and took the junior men's broad jump with a leap of 18 feet 3 1/2 inches. Clarke also took the 100-yard sprint open to contestants 18 years old and under, and paced the rest of the field to win the 100-yard senior open dash.

L. Marks, Victoria, took the open high jump, clipping the bar at 5 feet 5 inches. A. Gillespie, another Victoria, won the 880-yard open race, his time being 2:16.25, and W. Gillespie, also from the Capital City, placed first in the junior high jump.

The hop, step and jump was won by F. G. Smith, and the 100-yard dash open to men of the forces by J. Stewart, both of Victoria. Stewart's time for this event was 10.

Lieutenant-Governor W. C. Woodward formally opened the games, and welcomed three Hollywood notables—Miss Lillian Gish, Miss Greta Garbo and Costume Designer Walter Plunkett. The pipe band of the 2nd Battalion Canadian Scottish Regiment drew roars of applause from the crowd for its appearance in the band competition and won the Stewart Trophy, which Mr. Woodward later presented to Pipe-Major Ian Duncan.

R.A.F. Five C's Win Cricket Games

Scoring 122 runs for four wickets after the Navy team was downed for 115, R.A.F. cricketers continued on their unobstructed way in the Saturday cricket league after play Saturday afternoon.

In the other game Five C's defeated Albions 99 to 80, before a good size crowd and Sir Cedric Hardwicke, who promised to be back, engagements permitting.

In the services match the Navy seemed to have batted strongly, many of their men going into double figures. But the airmen came to bat and found the sailor bowlers duck soup, and just let them have it.

The other game was between the league's two greatest rivals, and was one of the few Five C's wins of the season. Runs came freely from the start. Quantin, the high man, with 33 runs, Albions began to score freely also, but the latter batsmen found trouble in the bowling of Jack Payne, and just fell away when matters began to look rosy.

Wins Sharland Cup

With a net score of 139, the 36 holes, A. Juriloff won the Sharland Cup at the Gorge Vale Golf Club Sunday. S. Spavin and Eph. Robinson tied for second place, each with scores of 140. Next was O. A. Trickett with 141, while J. E. Hart finished fifth with 143.

Baseball Playoff

Playoffs in second division baseball will get started Tuesday night, when the Army and V.M.D. clash at the Work Point Barracks at 6:30. Bullock and Pendray will be the umpires.

The winners of this series will earn the right to oppose the Navy in the final.

Victoria Wins Boxla

Bumps Vancouver 18-14

Underestimation, even a little at the start of the battle, has resulted in many defeats. And at the Sports Centre Saturday night, Chief Andy Paull's Vancouver All-Stars nosed into an 18 to 14 defeat after taking the Victoria All-Star outfit too lightly in the first quarter.

More than 1,000 fans tramped out to watch the second intercity exhibition of the year and saw a rough and fast thriller in which no one, strangely enough, was injured. This game was the second straight win for Victoria over a Vancouver squad this season.

In that first quarter, coupled with a little mystification of the small floor, Vancouver took what they expected to be a win as matter of course and were sadly disillusioned. They let Victoria pick up practically all the loose balls and were lax about checking the local boys in the corners. Team coach Andy Paull might have seen this before the damage was done, but his glasses were in lock and without his horn rims, Andy is as blind as a bat.

So Victoria just took advantage of Vancouver's inattention and stepped out with a glorious 9 to 2 lead after the first quarter. It was a mighty good job the local team did that, for in the three succeeding periods the mainlanders got in there and checked for all they were worth and only shot on goal when they had Victoria goalie Bill Andrews at almost their complete mercy. During the rest of the game Vancouver outscored the home team 12 goals to nine, but were sore in every joint before they left the floor at the end.

LAY ON WOOD

In the second quarter and to a lesser extent in the last two periods the play ranked with the roughest ever shown here. The lads on both sides laid on the wood, boarded recklessly and threw around their hips and shoulders liberally. Score at the half was 12 to 6 and at the end of the third, 15 to 8. In the last canto Vancouver played its best lacrosse to outscore Victoria six goals to three.

Hero of the night as far as Victoria was concerned, was big Mike Cunningham who let seven wicked overhead drives go at goalie Davey Gibbons and scored six of them. It was his best game of the season. Jack Williams, another Ontario boy, scored four, three of them in the first quarter. Vancouver gave him special attention after those first three goals.

Veteran Bill Dickinson, Art Mathewson and Ernie Kelly looked the best on the Vancouver squad. Bill and Art scored five goals and got five assists between them. Kelly was in there punching the whole way, and although he did not score was the pestiest dritter on the mainland team.

After a bad start, Davey Gibbons really settled down to play a grand game in the Vancouver goal. He was dynamite on angle shots. Bill Andrews, in the Victoria goal, was hotter than an Olsen and Johnson burlesque show all game, and stopped more sure goals in that game than he has in any three or four in league play. In the last quarter he was really popping.

Brynjolfson and Greenwood refereed.

Wrestling Returns, Thunderbird Wins

The grunt and groan pastime made its first showing in Victoria in over a year and a half and 500 curiosity-seekers went out Saturday night and cheered the hero, Chief Thunderbird, to a win that might or might not have been deserving.

The chief tangled with George Kitzmiller, the former all-America football star from Portland, and was given the verdict in the sixth round by Stan Miles after both men bogged down on the mat and were so intertwined it looked like a go between two pretzels.

After two rounds of stomping and snorting in the approved fashion, Kitzmiller got Baptiste to the mat in the third and held the big Indian there with a shoulder press to gain the first fall.

But the hero must always come through, and Thunderbird did, in the fifth. He got his super-special deathlock on Kitzmiller and made him say "uncle" before his legs came out at the sockets. In the sixth Thunderbird got a double Indian deathlock and after Kitzmiller had tried to break the hold for three minutes Referee Miles awarded the bout to the Victorian.

In the semiwind-up Bulldog Jackson of Portland beat Mohan Singh of Victoria by virtue of a toe-hold after a nice brisk session of shenanigans. Ran Singh won the other event from Johnny Bartell, while George Lowe and Bill Steen grappled to a draw.

Al Summers, Winnipeg, and Harry Macdonald, New Westminster, entertained with boxing. Bill Inglis, the little strong man, entertained with feats of strength.

Baseball Tonight

Navy Whips Flyers

With a chance to move into a first-place tie with the V.M.D., the Navy ball club will be out in full force tonight at the Athletic Park for its engagement with the Eagles, starting at 6:30.

Navy moved to within half a game of the leaders Saturday afternoon by spanking the R.C. A.F. 3 to 1 behind the five-hit hurling of Stan Davies.

Eagles, making a last-ditch effort to gain the playoffs will field a couple of new players tonight. They are Tommy Garner, a first baseman from Chemainus, and Gil Bruce, pitcher and infielder, from Duncan.

Davies, who up to Saturday, had failed to show his fine form of last season, finally hit his stride. He struck out 11 and walked a pair. Bert Appleby, on the mound for the Flyers, gave up eight hits and struck out four.

Navy grabbed a two-run lead in the third inning. Menard walked, stole second and scored on Van Hatten's double. The last-named completed the circuit when Moretti followed with a single. Navy's last run came in the ninth when Dovey was safe on an error, advanced to second on a fielder's choice, went to third on a passed ball and scored when Moretti doubled.

Flyers prevented a shutout with one run in their half of the last inning. Percy Switch hit a two-bagger and scored on two errors by the Navy infield.

Sparkling catches were pulled off by McDonald and O'Donoghue of the Flyers and Moretti of the Navy.

Short score:

Navy 3 R. H. E.
Flyers 8 3 2
R.C.A.F. 1 5 4
Batteries—Davies and Menard; Appleby and McNicholl.
Umpires—Bullock and Pendray.

Dodgers-Giants Battle With Interest Fever Hot

Mungo Will Hurl Against Former Mates

Brooklyn Dodgers, who might not be so far along with their work had they met New York Giants more often, tangle with their hecklers from Harlem this evening in a contest that has generated more excitement in Gotham than any baseball battle since the last world series.

While a build-up hardly seems necessary for a Dodger-Giant game, officials of both clubs have been plugging this one harder than both leagues did the recent all-star tilt in the same park and indications are that the attendance will approach 55,000.

The extra special added attraction will be Van Lingle Mungo, new addition to the Giants' pitching staff, hurling against the Dodgers, whose uniform he wore when he was the terror or the majors not so many years ago.

A quirk in the schedule has kept the two teams apart since May 30. In 11 outings this season, the Dodgers won six and the Giants five.

Whitlow Wyatt will be Brooklyn's starting pitcher for this evening's joust, which opens a four-game series.

The Giants helped the Dodgers preserve their nine-game lead Sunday by splitting a double header with the second-place St. Louis Cardinals, which is all the Dodgers could do with Chicago Cubs.

It took the Dodgers 10 innings to turn back the Cubs, 5 to 4, in the first game. In the second, Claude Passeau pitched the Cubs to a 7 to 6 triumph.

Carl Hubbell pitched the Giants to a 7 to 1 decision over the Cardinals for his fifth straight victory as Mel Ott blasted two home runs, one with the bases loaded. Then Mort Cooper tossed a four-hitter at the Giants and the Cards won, 3 to 2.

Cincinnati Reds clung to their one-game third-place margin over the Giants by splitting with Boston Braves. Al Javery blanked the Reds 7 to 0 in five hits in the first game but Cincinnati took the second, 4 to 2.

Pittsburgh Pirates dumped the Philadelphia Phils, 4 to 2 and 3 to 2, and hopped over the Cubs into fifth place.

In the American League, New York Yankees downed St. Louis Browns twice and stretched their lead to 12½ games over Cleveland Indians, who wrested second place from Boston Red Sox with the help of Detroit Tigers.

A two-run homer by Tommy Henrich led the Yanks to a 4 to 2 victory over St. Louis in the opener and Ernie Bonham blanked the Browns, 10 to 0, in the nightcap, although he yielded 10 hits.

COAST LEAGUE

The Los Angeles Angels, who climbed to top place in the Coast League race nearly three weeks ago, increased their advantage over their nearest contenders by trouncing Seattle in all three of their week-end games.

The Angels' victories in the single game Saturday and in Sunday's doubleheader left them four full games ahead of the second-place Sacramento club, which won two of its four week-end games. Twelve thousand fans got three extra innings of baseball for their money in the scheduled seven-inning nightcap between the Angels and Seattle Sunday. The score was tied in the sixth and both teams went scoreless until the 10th when Joyner White's single, a sacrifice, and Bill Matheson's single brought the Rainiers what might have been the winning run.

Timely hitting, however, brought the Angels two in their half. Harry Lowry bunted safely, advanced to second on a sacrifice and went to third on Bill Hughes' grounder. Johnny Moore, singled, scoring Lowry, and Eddie Mayo batted in the winning run for a 5 to 4 victory with a double to centre.

German Raiders Over England During Holiday

LONDON (CP)—Britons spending the August bank holiday at seaside resorts, or celebrating at home were targets of German air raiders who swooped from the clouds to bomb scattered towns in England this afternoon.

A trail of bomb damage was left across a southwest seaside town, but casualties were believed slight and there were no immediate reports of fatalities.

Crowds watched a Spitfire pursue one raider.

CARNIVAL DISTURBED

A north Midlands town, where a carnival was held for those heeding the government's admonition to enjoy the holiday at home, was subjected to low-level bombing by a lone raider. Two bombs fell in a park near an outdoor theatre, but only minor casualties resulted.

Considerable damage was done to business and residential properties of a northeast coast town where a single Nazi bomber struck during the lunch hour. Rescue parties searched the debris for possible victims.

Other enemy planes were said to be elsewhere over England during the afternoon.

NAZIS LOSE 3

Scattered Nazi air stabs over Britain Sunday night cost the raiders three bombers, including a Dornier 217 shot down by a Canadian and an American.

The Dornier was credited to P.O. J. M. McKenzie of Bathurst, N.B., and Sgt. T. Gates of Miami, Fla., Spitfire pilots.

No serious damage or casualties resulted from the Nazi attacks by 20 or fewer bombers. One Midlands area was sprayed with incendiaries and some places in East Anglia also were attacked. Enemy planes, presumably bound on other missions, caused a short alarm in London, but the capital was not bombed.

The German radio broadcast a D.N.B. report saying the towns bombed Sunday night were Bedford, north of London, Harwich and Great Yarmouth on the east coast. York was raided Sunday morning, D.N.B. said.

HIT NAZI BARGES

Spitfires on offensive patrol attacked railway targets and barges in the Nazi-occupied low countries Sunday afternoon, the Air Ministry announced.

The communiqué listed Axis losses of 42 planes during July over Britain, continental Europe, the Middle East and at sea, against 432 R.A.F. losses in the same month. In the Middle East it scored 307 enemy planes as downed—149 at Malta—against 181 lost by the R.A.F.

Unfavorable weather over the continent Sunday night kept Britain's own big bomber fleet from renewing its offensive against Germany.

Capitol Will Show 'No Greater Sin'

The culmination of 21 years' effort on the part of the Health League of Canada will have its realization at the Capitol Theatre Wednesday, when "No Greater Sin" will be shown. Present day question of social diseases is today recognized by educators and health authorities as belonging to methods, as outlined in the program of the Health League of Canada are to reveal to all the perils of social disease and the inevitable taint which is passed on to succeeding generations. Through the efforts of the above named organization light has been continually shed in a more and more understandable and salutary way on this hitherto hidden subject so that all may see the horrible price paid not only by those who have contact with the sordid and immoral side of life, but of those quite innocent victims who are drawn in the web of disaster, through no fault of their own, but through an unforeseen and tragic chain of circumstances.

BETTE DAVIS IN 'LITTLE FOXES'

Bette Davis is said to rise to new histrionic heights in her latest starring film, "The Little Foxes." Samuel Goldwyn's widely heralded screen version of the sensational New York stage success, now at the Capitol Theatre.

Miss Davis plays an unscrupulous, greedy woman determined to get money through an investment in a cotton mill to be operated by labor at starvation wages. The dramatic power and intensity of Miss Davis' characterization mark a new high in her colorful acting career. It features her heartless conflict with her husband and her daughter in furtherance of her ambition.

Herbert Marshall, Teresa Wright and Richard Carlson head a notable supporting cast in this RKO-Radio release.

'SWAMP WATER' ON RIO SCREEN

The loves, the hates, the lives of the unusual people who live near a forboding, mysterious and unknown swampland flashed across the screen of the Rio Theatre today when 20th Century-Fox's "Swamp Water" was shown.

Under the guidance of Jean Renoir, famous French director who has gained renown for his "Grand Illusion" and "Madame Bovary," the Vereen Bell story has come to life with all the excitement and thrills of the most unusual serial ever published by the Saturday Evening Post. Renoir again shows his artistry.

'TORTILLA FLAT' NOW AT CAPITOL

Nothing was left to chance by Director Victor Fleming in supplying realism for the scenes in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's screen version of John Steinbeck's widely-read novel, "Tortilla Flat," now at the Capitol Theatre, starring Spencer Tracy, Hedy Lamarr and John Garfield. Cast as carefree, fun-loving paisanos, Tracy and Garfield had to learn how to toss off Mexican drinking songs in the traditional manner. Franz Waxman and Carlos Rufin of the M-G-M music department were their instructors, and before the lessons were over Garfield, not only sang, but learned how to play the guitar!

land to volunteer for military or civilian service.

Free passage to the United Kingdom will be paid to all accepted volunteers, said an announcement of the British information services.

Offers of service men will be considered from both married and unmarried men and women.

A departure from existing practice, said the information service, is an extension of the term "British subject" to include "aliens of the second generation born abroad who would have been British but for the failure of their parents to register their birth at a British consulate."

Volunteers are being asked to supply themselves with a good supply of winter clothing.

NELSON EDDY IN 'BALALAIKA'

Mood of the setting is one of the most important essentials to the success of any song presented in a motion picture, according to a man who won his reputation as Europe's foremost director of screen musicals by his revolutionary methods.

He is Reinhold Schunzel, who directs "Balalaika," new and lavishly tune film co-starring Nelson Eddy and Ilona Massey, which comes to the York Theatre today.

One innovation, introduced by Schunzel in "Balalaika," is the shooting of songs sung by Nelson Eddy in one long uninterrupted shot, using a roving camera in a scene that in each instance runs approximately five minutes.

The purpose of this was twofold. First, Schunzel believes that much of the effectiveness of a song is lost when the director shoots it in a series of "cuts," long shots, close shots and medium shots. Secondly, the rambling camera was better fitted to tie in the mood of the surroundings and the reactions of others in the scene.

'LARCENY, INC.' ATLAS COMEDY

Edward G. Robinson's antics on the Atlas screen today in Warner Bros.' newest comedy, "Larceny, Inc.," keeps the audience in a constant state of laughter. Not since "A Slight Case of Murder" and "Brother Orchid" has he brought so much mirth to the patrons of the Atlas. In his latest film, Robinson plays the role of a man who is surprised to learn that he can make more money by running a luggage shop than by robbing a bank. And let it be said right here and now, that a finer bit of casting could not be done. Robinson is perfect for the part.

Needy Students To Be Helped

Department of Education today renewed its offer of assistance to young persons desirous of becoming teachers, but financially unable to spend a year at Normal School.

Some time ago an announcement to this effect was made by Hon. H. G. T. Perry, Minister of Education. He said at that time that the Dominion and provincial governments would co-operate to provide funds for bursaries to assist suitable applicants to attend normal school.

"The purpose of this scheme is to assist those who are financially unable to support themselves while attending Normal School," Dr. S. J. Willis, superintendent of education, said today. "It is felt there are a considerable number of students of good scholastic standing who are desirous of entering teaching service, but who are unable to spend the required year at the Normal School because of financial difficulties."

"This offer is now renewed. Any person who is in need of financial assistance, but is otherwise eligible to attend a normal school, should write to the Department of Education for a form on which application may be made for assistance. The Department of Education is anxious to recruit such students, and is desirous of helping them."

TEACHERS HEAR FAMOUS SOPRANO

With vocal selections that made her famous in both Canada and the U.S., Miss Peggy Turnley, soprano, sang before teachers of the Summer School this morning in the auditorium of Victoria High School. She was accompanied by Mrs. C. C. Wain.

Her songs included selections from Handel, Mozart, Duparc, Carson, and other music masters of the past.

A spiritual number, "Sometimes I Feel Like a Motherless Child," brought out her splendid expression and softness of tone. Other songs included: "Oh, Sleep, Why Dost Thou Leave Me?" "Nel Cor Più Non Sento," and "Midsummer."

Miss Turnley appeared in the Mozart Festival, under the direction of Sir Thomas Beecham, in Seattle, and also appeared in the Bach Festival at Carmel, Calif., in June.

John H. F. Currie was fined $25 in police court today when he pleaded guilty to stealing a wallet, $13.95 in cash and personal documents from Lloyd Blume of Seattle here Sunday afternoon.

A letter was received in Victoria this week from Mrs. Hollins, widow of Dr. Alfred Hollins, world famous blind organist and composer who passed away on May 17 in Edinburgh. The letter expressed appreciation of the story printed in Victoria a short time ago. Dr. Hollins was heard in Victoria in 1925 when on a tour of Canada and the United States.

The British-Russian Alliance Committee realized the sum of $38.84 as the result of its rummage sale held Saturday. This is the third sale sponsored by the committee since January, as a result of which they have turned in a total of $138.31 to the Red Cross for Russian relief. Warm clothing is also being accepted for shipment to Russia. Since the appeal published in July, the committee has received and shipped nearly half a ton of warm clothing to Russia.

An appeal was received at the Chamber of Commerce this morning from J. W. Howroyd of Iris Farm at Mt. Tolmie, saying he has an estimated 300,000 bulbs which must be picked up and crated and made ready for shipment. These bulbs are on the ground and only require picking up and putting into boxes.

The appeal is for boys between the ages of 17-18 to go and pick these bulbs. They will be paid 30 cents per hour, and Mr. Howroyd wants as many boys as possible. The bulbs must be picked and shipped immediately.

Those wishing to work are asked to phone Mr. Howroyd at G 4096, or the Chamber of Commerce, where Norman Foster will provide information. Trip to the farm costs 8 cents. As the nature of the work is a little on the heavy side, no girls are wanted.

An Anxious Moment

Nervousness is clearly displayed on the face of movie actor Alexander Hamilton, all dolled up in a German officer's uniform with Nazi emblem and Iron Cross, as Jack Holyoake, Empress Hotel barber, determinedly plies his razor. Knox, a Canadian, takes the part of the leader of the Nazi force occupying a fishing village in Norway, one of the sequences in the Lester Cowan film "The Commandos Come at Dawn."

Sten Guns Issued Militia Rangers

British Columbia's Militia Rangers units, the guerrilla fighters organized last February among men who know the province's tough terrain, are being supplied with government-purchased rifles just as fast as they become available, and plans are being discussed to provide appropriate uniforms for the force.

In an interview today the head of the Rangers, Lt. Col. A. H. Taylor said that the Sten gun being manufactured in Canada, a light but tough sub-machine gun, also is being distributed. It is hoped eventually to equip the entire force throughout the province with these new weapons, probably at the ratio of two to every five-man unit.

USE ALIENS' GUNS

Col. Taylor disclosed that at the present time guns of standard sizes seized from enemy aliens, as well as new weapons, are being made available to Ranger units.

"I hope that within the near future the requirements of the more exposed westerly Ranger units can be filled," he said. At the present time a number of weapons were on hand, being prepared for issue.

In regard to uniforms, Col. Taylor said he understood plans were being considered for supplying Ranger units with "appropriate service uniforms especially designed for the nature of their work in the bush," but would give no further details.

The first Ranger unit was formed near Victoria last March 18. Now units have been established among lumbermen, miners and ranchers throughout the province. Col. Taylor said: "It is an organization formed of western men to meet western conditions."

Howe Denies Shop Planned for City

Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Munitions and Supply, in a letter received by Mayor Andrew McGavin today, denied his department had any plans for establishing a machine shop or expanding existing machine shop facilities in Victoria.

During the discussions between the City Council and the Victoria Chamber of Commerce a wire from R. W. Mayhew, Victoria M.P., was read, which said a machine shop had been planned for Victoria but the plans had been canceled.

Only July 21, J. V. Johnson, president of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, said, according to the newspapers, that the machine shop planned for Victoria had been removed to New Westminster.

On hearing of this Mayor McGavin wired Ottawa asking information and a committee was appointed by the City Council to investigate the matter.

Mr. McGavin's wire and the reply of the Munitions and Supply Minister follow:

"Within the last 10 days items have appeared in our local papers stating that your government had ordered establishment of a machine shop in Victoria but in last night's paper an item appeared stating the machine shop would be built in New Westminster not Victoria. Can you give me any information about this machine shop as nothing has ever come before City Council on subject? It is suggested that lack of housing accommodation in Victoria reason for the machine shop being built elsewhere but housing conditions are same in all coast cities. Would like assurance that publicity about machine shop is not just a political story and if a government machine shop is necessary on this coast to assist our war effort it will be located where it will give best service to people of Canada and public funds will not be wasted."

"Dear Mayor McGavin, I have delayed replying to your telegram of the 22nd instant until I might have complete information on the newspaper report that a machine shop is to be established at Victoria.

"As far as I can ascertain, consideration has not been given by any senior executive of this department to establishment of machine shop facilities at Victoria or to the expansion of the existing machine shop facilities.

"I hope this information will help you to set the current rumors at rest.

Yours very truly,
(Signed) C. D. Howe.

Little Ann Carter, the blonde starlet in the film now in production here, will appear at the big function as a Red Cross nurse and other members of the cast will assist at the various stalls. Producer Lester Cowan has assured the Red Cross committee that he will do everything in his power to help make the affair an outstanding success.

Members of the "Commandos" company who are expected to be present at the grand gala will be Anna Lee, due in the city from Hollywood this week to take the feminine lead in the film and last seen in the picture "How Green Is My Valley"; Paul Muni, famous screen star also on location here; Sir Cedric Hardwicke, Lillian Gish, Rosemary deCamp, Barbara Everest, Arthur Margeson, F.O. Robert Coote, R.C.A.F.; Ray Collins, Albert Alderson, Alexander Knox, Louis Jean Helldt, Richard Derr, Elsa Jansen and Ferdinand Menier.

It is possible that other movie stars will attend the Red Cross gala which, it is expected, will smash all previous records for attendance. When Miss Gracie Fields attended the Red Cross garden party two years ago 10,000 people were there to see her and hear her sing.

This season it is hoped to better the attendance total.

Indian Gets 7 Days For Drunken Driving

James Jimmie, an Indian, was convicted of drunken driving in special Provincial Court today and sentenced to seven days and had his license suspended for a year.

The charge arose from an accident Saturday evening at 7.30, when Jimmie's car crashed into the railing of the Arbutus Creek Bridge on the Malahat, but did not plunge into the gorge below. Constable John Lockie told the court that it would have taken only a slight push to send it over the side. He said that Jimmie appeared drunk and that he had found an empty half gallon wine bottle in the back of the car.

Two other Indians, Alex Joseph and Walter John, the latter a soldier, were each fined $10 when they pleaded guilty to drunkenness charges. They were arrested by police near Goldstream, having apparently gone that far in Jimmie's car.

Sir Cedric Hardwicke, noted British actor appearing here with "The Commandos Come at Dawn," showed his interest in British national sport Saturday afternoon by visiting Beacon Hill Park to witness the cricket match between Albions and Five C's.

Sir Cedric exhibited keen interest in the game, asked about the development of the sport here, tested the bats and pitch.

Other members of "The Commandos" company, relaxing from location work, enjoyed themselves in various ways during the week-end.

F.O. Robert Coote, R.C.A.F., who resigned his Hollywood contract to join the Canadian flying forces and is taking the role of the British commando officer in the local production, again went fishing, while other members of the cast were to be seen swimming at the beaches.

Paul Muni, Ann Carter, and other members of the company went out to Sooke this morning for the shooting of escape scenes, in which Paul and Ann are hidden down a well by Barga Everest, Norwegian farmwife. The sequence was filmed in an untenanted farmhouse near Sooke.

Canada Gets New Coin

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada is to say good-bye to the old round five-cent piece and have instead a 12-sided coin. Finance Minister Mackenzie King today said the House of Commons shortly before the session ended Saturday.

The minister said the new coin will be minted "from a different metal," the purpose being to save metal.

It will not interfere with telephone pay stations.

Monthly meeting of the parents of the Victoria Boys' Band will be held at the City Hall Wednesday evening at 8.

A.R.F. District No. 8, Saanich, will meet in St. Michael's Parish Hall, Royal Oak, Wednesday night at 8.

Germans Unhappy

'Losses Were Awful' Nazi Libya Prisoner Tells Allied Captor

By M. H. HALTON

EL ALAMEIN (7 a.m.)—On July 7 the German high command issued instructions that within 14 days El Alamein positions must be taken and Alexandria invested. Now, three weeks later, the Germans are fighting desperately, not to take El Alamein, but to hold what they've got. The punishment inflicted in these three weeks on the enemy by what the German radio called our beaten army, was partly described by a German prisoner yesterday.

"On the 13th, we made a full-advanced all along the line. We fully believed it was a victory march to Alexandria. But the British stopped us at every point. The British seemed to have masses of artillery everywhere. And their bombers never left us alone day or night.

"On the 13th, we made a full-scale attack on El Alamein—which we were told was the last strong point covering Alexandria. We fought all day and at night, were forced to withdraw. It was the worst attack I had ever been in until then. Dozens of my own friends were killed.

"On the morning of the 17th we attacked again. The British never stopped fighting until our tanks were on top of them. Our losses were awful. At midday we were in full flight. It was terrible. At 10 that night, exhausted, we were ordered to advance again. By this time it was all the same to us.

WRECKAGE TO SEE
"Twelve and 13 hours. Reached the escarpment." We drove on to Ruweisat ridge. We found certain divisional headquarters to ask for news, then forward again to the scene of the terrible battle a week ago Wednesday. Still nothing was happening. Nothing to hear for a change. Nothing to see but what had been. There were some of our tank transporters with recovered tanks. They've recovered dozens. Wonderful men. There's a German tank which was our lookout for the barrier the other day.

2:00 p.m. — "Proceeded south into unfamiliar country. Some-

We all wanted to be put out of our misery.

FORCED TO FIGHT

"The attack failed. Next day at noon we were rushing back after being counterattacked and our police held pistols to our breasts to force us back to fight. At last we were captured. So we're going to Alexandria after all—but without our arms."

Yesterday in this unexpected lull in the battle for Egypt I drove along the desert battle line from Alamein toward the Qattara depression and back.

In trying to imagine this hot, bloody scene think not of two lines of men facing each other, but of positions in depth. The "line" is a series of positions with gaps filled by minefields. From each position long columns of supply vehicles stream back for miles and miles. And hidden away in strategic points throughout the whole area British or enemy tanks rest or manoeuvre or prepare.

On this field or behind it, west and east, are more than 500,000 soldiers. This doesn't mean 500, 000 fighting men are in the front lines. In modern war there's only one front line fighting man-handling a weapon in the face of the enemy to every four or five in the army. It takes four or five men in uniform to supply each individual fighting man with food, petrol, ammunition and medical services.

CROSS NO MAN'S LAND

8 a.m.—"Drove forward through El Alamein positions," says my log. We raced forward from there, slowing up only for shell holes in the road. We left the road after having driven through part of No Man's Land in broad daylight and found a certain battalion headquarters on Tel El Eisa. I walked forward across some dead ground, crawled on over the ridge and reached the forward line.

"Nothing doing today," said the officer there. Tea was brewed and we chatted and watched the enemy moving only a mile away.

9:30 a.m.—Left Tel El Eisa and proceeded south. "We struck the main road as a few shells were falling among knocked out German tanks. Why the enemy was shelling these derelicts I don't know, but can guess. We left the road and took the track south into the desert. Streams of our vehicles were coming and going along that violently bumpy, dusty road under full view of the enemy, but nothing was happening.

PRISONERS EXHAUSTED

I left the track to visit an advanced Australian position where I had been the previous day. I met German prisoners too exhausted and thirsty to talk, or brush off filth. The morning silence for half an hour was unbroken by anything but a few machine-gun bursts. Then four enemy aircraft came over us and dropped bombs a few miles within our positions from a great height and escaped out to the sea.

10 a.m.—"Proceeded south."
The wind was from the sea and the radiator boiled every few minutes as we plowed through foot-deep soft, yellow choking dirt. We did ourselves out, were stuck again, dug out again
—and paused, swearing and waiting at files, to look at enemy positions and hope he didn't choose this minute for a little shelling.

We visited some South African armored car boys who had donned patrol a few hours earlier and got one enemy anti-tank gun.

11 a.m.—"Proceeded toward the first escarpment." We were having heavy going and it was right along our front line. Three days ago it would have been death to drive this way (that's why I wasn't doing it three days ago) the enemy was still there.

It was curious to think that over there Germans were watching us from observation posts, wondering who and what we were, and probably considering whether to drop a few shells this way. There was nothing but knocked out tanks and vehicles and occasional graves.

Killed at Ft. Rupert

George Sobard, gas shovel operator for General Construction Company, was accidentally killed today at Fort Rupert. Provincial Police headquarters here advised.

Fort Rupert is on the northeast coast of Vancouver Island, not far from Hardy Bay. An inquest will be held at Alert Bay.

Police are searching for relatives of the dead men. A friend,
A. Frenette, 853 East Pender, Vancouver, may be able to supply information.

Big U.S. War Bond Month

WASHINGTON (AP)—Americans dug down and purchased $900,000,000 in war bonds last month, with 18,000,000 workers authorizing wage deductions, and 110,000 firms operating payroll savings plans. It was the second highest month for war bond sales.

Reserve Artillery Off to Camp

Top picture shows the scene as Victoria's Reserve Artillery Battery, the 203rd, under Capt. R. W.
Challoner sailed Sunday for Vernon for two weeks' summer training. Among the throngs of sweethearts, wives and friends down at the dock to "kiss the boys goodbye" were, middle picture, Mrs. Sam Smith and her baby, seen with Gunner Sam Smith and, lower, Cpl. J. Eddison saying goodbye to Miss Kay McAllister.

body is being shelled four miles away on bearing 245.

TAKES EASY ROUTE
Toward 4 o'clock I set out for my camp at El Alamein, taking the safer, easier route.

An officer showed me a satirical document found on a German prisoner. It's called "Return of the German armored corps to Berlin long, long, long after the war." It describes how some wild-looking men came into Berlin one day, babbling a strange mixture of Arabic and German.
Hitler and Goering see them. "I wonder who they can be," says Hitler. Goering suddenly realizes and steps back aghast. "During the second and third years of the War of Liberation," he explained, "we had a long campaign in Africa. After the war we must have forgotten our men out there." The wild men continue along the street and see a building site with men begining to work. They see piles of sand —"And immediately start to dig, as was their custom."

More sombre were the words of the German song: "German volunteers! Volunteers, is just a name."

"They mean voluntary compulsion—which comes to much the same." And the other verses are all gloomy about hardships, and sneering at tales of "Victorious German columns." The British troops, too, have grumbling songs
—but none are gloomy or serious.
Without exception they are in a comic vein.

The favorite song of Rommel's Africa Korps these days is a rather catching sentimental marching song called "Lili Marleen," one verse of which can be translated thus:

"In the silent Libyan night,
I dream of Marleen, my delight;
Her red mouth caressing—ach mein god!
A soldier must of this think not.
Though death may soon come for me.
We will meet again, Marleen."

R.A.F. boys who daily do the famous "mail run," to bomb Bengazi, listen in to the German radio playing "Lili Marleen" and sing words such as this to it:
"Down in the Ops rooms someone said,
Rout out those blunders, get 'em out of bed.
Two full squadrons leave at dawn,
Jack's got the wind up, look at him yawn.
We are off to bomb Bengazi,
We are off to bomb B.G."

Proof From Duesseldorf

Pictures Reveal Terrific Damage

LONDON (CP)—Reconnaissance photos taken after the heavy raid on Duesseldorf the night of July 31 show 12 acres of buildings near the docks levelled and terrific damage in predominantly industrial areas.

Big fires were burning in the Rhinecland city 12 hours after the attack.

Photographs of Saarbruecken, attacked two nights before,
showed severe damage had been done, with part of the Erhardt and Schmeer engineering works destroyed.

An Air Ministry news service
analysis of the Duesseldorf raid
said that among the damaged factories definitely identified were the main shed and smaller buildings of the Stahlwerk Kreiger steel casting works, the main shops of De Limon Fluhme and Company which were "completely destroyed," two buildings of the Phoenix, A. G. Rothenwerk steel tube factory demolished and the main shop damaged, and the main part of the chemical works
in the suburbs of Neuss which was on fire at the time of reconnaissance.

Four large buildings in the Werkzeug Maschinen Fabrik
Schell Defries plant, a machine tool factory, also were completely wrecked and other buildings damaged.

"Some of the heaviest damage was to buildings along the main streets in the southern part of Duesseldorf," the service added.

Photographs of Saarbruecken,
attacked two nights before,
showed severe damage had been done, with part of the Erhardt
and Schmeer engineering works
destroyed.

An Air Ministry news service
analysis of the Duesseldorf raid
said that among the damaged
factories definitely identified
were the main shed and smaller buildings of the Stahlwerk Krei-
ger steel casting works, the main
shops of De Limon Fluhme and Company which were "completely destroyed," two buildings of the Phoenix, A. G. Rothenwerk steel
tube factory demolished and the main shop damaged, and the main part of the chemical works
in the suburbs of Neuss which was on fire at the time of reconnaissance.

Four large buildings in the
Werkzeug Maschinen Fabrik
Schell Defries plant, a machine
tool factory, also were completely wrecked and other buildings
damaged.

"Some of the heaviest damage
was to buildings along the main streets in the southern part of Duesseldorf," the service added.

New Air Battle Rages in China

CHUNGKING (AP)—A second big air battle for control of the skies over China was reported fought today over the Hengyang air base between United States planes and new Japanese fighters apparently massed for an attempt to wipe out the Americans' outpost in Hunan province.

Although no details of the fight were available immediately, word reached here that the outcome had been favorable to the Americans.

Ship Cheated Nazi U-Boat

AN EAST COAST CANADIAN PORT (CP) — With her stern buckled and crushed and with a gaping hole in her bow from Nazi torpedoes, a tough United Nations freighter was nudged into this port recently by tugs, her flag still flying bravely.

Crew members told how the vessel cheated Hitler's U-boats after wallowing long hours, helpless and broadside on to the churning seas, but reached port, there to be patched up and sent out on the sealanes again.

About 20 feet of vessel's stern was crumpled and smashed, as though squeezed by a giant hand. The weight of the ship's after portion was supported only by a few wire stays and buckled deck-plates, as her back was broken.

Miraculously, only one of the nine men asleep in the after cabin at the time of the attack lost his life. He drowned in the debris strewn water as he tried to escape the battered hull. The others groped their way over tangled wreckage on the slanting cabin floors, and battled clouds of steam from broken pipes as they searched for the ladders leading to the deck and safety. Some dived out through the jagged hole in the bottom, and swam to the surface.

A vote of $521,000 is provided for the Public Works Department to cover commitments in connection with unemployment relief projects.

Canadians to Fit in This Picture

U.S. paratroopers leap into space at Fort Benning, Ga., where Canadian soldiers, including many formerly stationed here, will undergo training to fit them for similar duties.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK (CP) — Rails and liquors provided the principal recovery power for today's stock market, a number in each group edging into new high territory for the past year or longer.

Quotations stiffened after an indefinite opening. Dealings were slack for the most part, although picking up a trifle in buying intervals. Gains, ranging from fractions to around a point at the best, were shaded in the final hour.

Buying was resumed, brokers said, mainly on the persistent idea that at present levels many stocks may have discounted some cloudy war developments, tax prospects and the waning of inflation psychology.

Stocks stepping into the new high division included Atlantic Coast Line, Southern Pacific, Schenley and Distillers Corp. Canadian stocks were quiet. International Nickel lost 1/2, while McIntyre Mines went up 1/2.

Montreal Bank Loses

MONTREAL (CP) — Few issues were traded up to the final hour on the stock exchange and curb market today.

Bank of Montreal lost ground in small sales. The miscellaneous section was most active with Seagrams up a little, Canadian Bronze, International Bronze and Zellers losing a little.

Active but unchanged were Brazilian, Canada Steamships preferred, Building Products and Massey-Harris.

Sub-Hunters Do Effective Work

By HAROLD FREEMAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

ABOARD A CANADIAN WARSHIP

(CP) — Just because you don't hear much about enemy submarines being sunk, don't go jumping to the conclusion Canadian naval ships are inactive, or that the navy is holding out on you. Quite often it's because the navy is chary about giving official recognition to a sinking without "conclusive proof."

Take the case of this ship, whose unofficial score is three, of which two are considered probable, but whose official count is zero, although her crew is still hopeful.

The particular action on which they pin their main hope of recognition took place off the coast of Nova Scotia, and their vessel's work on that occasion frustrated an attempt to attack a convoy. When it was all over the Bangor-class ship was sitting squarely in the middle of an oil patch two miles square.

Her captain tells the story in staccato style:

"We caught the sub flat-footed as she came in for the attack. After our first attack we saw an oil slick.

"We came in again. Asdic contact. Let go depth-charge pattern. Out again. Hard astern. In again to the attack. Contact. Let go charges. Out again. Around and in again for another attack.

"We used up every charge in the ship. By that time we were sitting in two square miles of oil. That oil could have come from only one place."

On another occasion her depth charges blew a submarine up to the surface. The U-boat lay atop the water for a moment, then tipped below, stern first, before the attacking ship could swing around to ram her.

The sub's crew probably didn't realize that for that brief moment they were in view above water. But there's no doubt they knew they were in an uncomfortable spot.

One quick-acting man aboard this ship got his camera trained around in time to get a perfect shot of the "surfaced" sub. The shot shows the U-boat, conning tower awash and bow high in the air, slipping back below the water.

Riveting Record At B.C. Shipyard

VANCOUVER (CP) — Lorne "Buster" Hanson, hardrock miner at Bralorne, B.C., until a year ago, was said today by shipyard officials to have set a Canadian riveting record in a British Columbia shipyard yesterday when he hammered in 2,043 seven-eighths-inch rivets in a seven and a half hour working shift.

Local shipyard officials believe the mark may be a new world record.

Previous Canadian record was set only last month in a British Columbia yard by Johnny Gorenko, who drove 1,226 rivets in 7 hours and 10 minutes.

Hanson was working on what is known as a "split" berth, an area of the ship's side split up into three sections by bulkheads which required time to bypass in riveting. When working at top speed he drove an average of nearly six rivets a minute.

Yachtsmen Cruised To Chatham Island

Rear-Commodore H. McE. Young's cruise to Chatham Island was the feature of the week-end activities of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club with a large turnout of amateur sailormen. Gasoline restrictions did not prevent the co-operation of the powerboat men. They left their boats at the club moorings and shipped with the windship crews for the cruise.

Some of the yachts left Cadboro Bay Saturday afternoon, the rest of the fleet following Sunday morning. The yachtsmen, on arrival at Chatham Island, picked on the beach and played softball and other games. No racing was scheduled. All the boats were back at Cadboro Bay by 7.30 Sunday night.

Parades for the week ending August 8 — Tuesday August 4: The corps will parade at the Drill Hall at 1930 hours. Instructions as per syllabus. Thursday August 6: No. 1 class will parade at H.M.C.S. U-Boat Inventor Offers Solution

WASHINGTON (AP) — Simon Lake, veteran submarine designer and builder, was here today to lay before a Senate military subcommittee the solution of the U-boat menace.

Lake, who said he had been called before a committee that has been seeking to step up production of aerial freighters, declared that as one of the inventors of the modern submarine he knew "what the Axis nations can do with it."

"For 30 years," he said, "I have warned that battleships, cruisers, destroyers, patrol boats of any kind, even airplanes, could not effectively stop its destructive toll of ships, their crews and cargoes."

"I say now that we have not yet seen the full fury of the submarines such as will probably descend upon us in the days to come."

"I have refrained from making public some of my plans, fearing our enemies would use them against us, but from information recently received and from evidence of enemy operations they are apparently using these methods and are planning to use them even more extensively. I feel the time has come to tell our people about them."

Wheat Bonds

CHICAGO (AP) — Wheat and corn prices fell about a cent a bushel today, the former to new season lows and the latter to bottom figures for two months, before the grain market rallied late in the session.

More favorable weather for spring wheat harvest and corn progress through the critical ear-forming stage, war news and a private forecast of record yields of major crops in Canada had a depressing effect.

The Searle Grain Company estimates of wheat production in three western Canadian provinces was 553,543,000 bushels, or almost double that of last year and much larger than the reduced acreage indicated earlier in the season. Grain men estimated that if this large Canadian crop should materialize, north America would have almost 2,500,000,000 bushels of wheat, including carryover and 1942 production, while home requirements for a full year are only about a third of that.

Dorothy Dix: Mother Urges Daughter To Stop Bearing Children

Dear Miss Dix: I am a young married woman and the mother of a dear little baby. I would be perfectly happy if it were not for the teachings of my mother that keep me mentally upset. My mother is an artist and lives upon such a high spiritual plane that things that are not of an artistic type irritate and bore her. She is dreadfully disappointed and hurt because I chose to just get married instead of following some ambitious career.

She has taught me that it is a crime to bring a child into the world to suffer, and begs me not to be responsible for another life. But I cannot see that it is wrong to want to be a mother when my aim is for the children's welfare. My mother is lovely and I want to respect and obey her, but as a woman I desire to think the right thoughts and do the right deeds. Can you relieve me of any doubt on the subject?

MARGARET.

Answer: Your mother is entirely wrong in her point of view and you are right. The greatest career that any woman can follow, the one in which she can most fully express herself and in which her achievement can be of most value to the world, is that of wife and mother. It is the career for which Nature intended her, and it is the one in which she is most successful and reaps the greatest reward in happiness.

Also, it is the career that calls for more intelligence, more talent, more tact and diplomacy, more courage and grit, a higher morale than any other. For the wife and mother must be a Pooh Bah who is master of all professions and arts and crafts. She must be a lawyer and a doctor, a preacher and disciplinarian, a cook and a teacher, a seamstress and a commissary general, and heaven knows what else, in order to pull off an even average job of wife and mother.

So when your mother voices her disappointment in you because you did nothing but get married, point her to your achievements. Ask her if any artist, even Raphael himself, ever painted a cherub as beautiful as your baby. Ask whether it is better to write a jazz tune, or make a glad, sweet song for a husband and children.

WHO IS THE MORE SUCCESSFUL?

Ask her whether a woman is more successful as a lawyer, or as the mother of a MacArthur. Ask her whether it is better to be a film star with a dozen divorces, or the adored wife of one husband. Ask her whether the woman achieves most who writes a novel about an imaginary home, or the one who makes a real home that is a place of peace and rest and a benediction to all who cross its threshold.

Ask her what woman does as much for her country or for humanity as the woman who rears a family of fine sons and daughters and sends them forth into the world to do its work worthily. Ask her what woman's influence is so great as that of the mother who has impressed her ideals upon her children so that they will transmit them to their children and send them down for uncounted generations.

Of course, every child that is born must suffer. It must know sickness and struggle and hardships and disappointments, but it is wrong to think of these as bringing us only misery. Out of them comes strength and the glory of achievement and wisdom and real manhood and womanhood. Furthermore, there is the joy of the battle that outweighs all the pleasures of peace. Only the flabby-souled would always want to be wrapped in luxury and softness and ease.

A DISHONORABLE PLAN

Dear Dorothy Dix: I am at the cross-roads of life and do not know which way to turn. Will you direct me? I am 17 and deeply in love with a young man of 21 who also loves me; but he is poor and will not be able to marry for many years. On the other hand, there is an elderly man of 70 who is wealthy and wants to marry me.

Don't you think it would be better for me to feather my nest by marrying the old man who cannot live forever and then marry the young man later on? My young lover says that he will wait for me, and as the old man is a great church-goer I could see my boy friend often. What do you think?

AGNES H.

Answer: I never heard of a more dishonorable project, and I think that if you carry it through you will be as unhappy as you deserve to be. Believe me, no marriage which is staked with the money that you get in that way will ever turn out well. There will be a curse upon it.

Let me advise you not to marry a man of 70 for his money in the hope that he will soon die. He isn't old enough. To 17, 70 seems the extreme limit of age, but it isn't in these days of the prolongation of life, and the chances are that you septuagenarian will live for 10 or 20 years. I have seen many a girl marry an old man for his money and then have to nurse him and sit by the fire with him until she was old and broken herself. So, believe me, it doesn't pay.

Don't sell your youth. Don't sell your love and romance for money. There is nothing but misery for both parties in the marriage of an old man to a young girl. You are too young to marry, anyway, so wait until your sweetheart can make enough money to afford a wife; then marry him.

SHE TAKES THE CAKE

Dear Dorothy Dix: My father and mother died when I was three years old and since then my sister and I have been living with an uncle and aunt. I am now 18 and through high school. My uncle and aunt had six children of their own. Some of them went through high school, but none to college. I want to go to college, but my uncle says that he can't afford to send me. He is a poor man, works hard and is 55 years old, but don't you think he ought to raise the money somehow to send me to college?

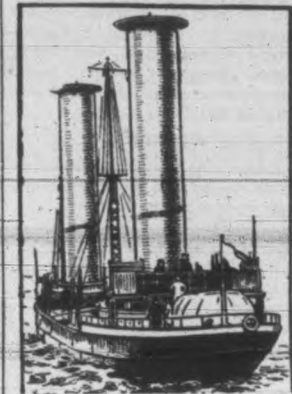

Answer: Well, for nerve and ingratitude you certainly take the cake, Grace. You show no appreciation of all that your generous uncle and aunt have done for you, and coolly demand that they give you advantages which they have not given their own children. And, more than that, you are willing to run them into debt to gratify your desire to go to college. You should be ashamed of yourself.

I certainly don't think your uncle should send you to college. If you pine for the higher education, go to work and earn the money for it. Hundreds of girls better than you are working their way through college.

Earth's Rotation Plays Part in Producing Winds

On a hot day, we may hope that a wind will come along. If it does, the temperature is likely to go down several degrees. Perhaps a storm will come with it, but even that change may be welcome. Something about hot, moist days keeps us from having much energy.

Many efforts have been made to put the wind to work, and this rotorship is an example. The tall objects which look like smokestacks will turn when the wind blows. The vessel in the picture crossed the Atlantic under wind power, but the speed was only about six miles per hour.

If our earth did not turn on its axis, there would be a different story about winds. Winds would blow north and south, but there would be few, if any, moving east or west. People living north of the equator would feel warm winds from the south. In Australia, South Africa, Chile and Argentina, hot winds would sweep down from the north.

Perhaps, in that case, there would be some small winds moving in other directions, but not many. It would be a dull world so far as winds were concerned. The sun heats the torrid zone far more strongly than the temperate zones. That makes the air hotter in the torrid zones, and when the air grows hot, it tends to expand.

As the air expands, it moves and the movement is a wind. Warm winds tend to sweep north and south from the torrid zone.

Happily, the earth turns on its axis. That gives us day and night, and it also gives us strong east-and-west winds. At the equator, the motion of the earth is at the rate of about 1,000 miles per hour. In the temperate zone the ground surface twists around at a slower rate, the average speed being only about 650 miles per hour.

Thanks to gravity, the air around the earth is held down fairly well when the earth turns on its axis. Otherwise there would be winds blowing from 500 to 1,000 miles per hour! The force of gravity does not, however, completely control the air. Winds which move northward from the equator do not altogether match the eastward motion of the ground. As a result many of the east-west motions of the air take place.

There are other points of which we might speak. Hot air makes winds of a sort when it rises, and cool air makes a wind motion when it sinks. Ocean currents and day-and-night changes also play their parts in bringing about certain winds. (For nature section of your scrapbook.)

Half Century of Ministerial Service

Rev. A. W. Corker, preaching at St. Peter's Church, Comox, reminded his congregation that it was 53 years since he had come to Alert Bay as a missionary.

He took as his text "As thy days so shall thy strength be." Reverting to the reverses suffered by the United Nations, he said that "our disappointments were God's appointments." When he came to Alert Bay more than half a century ago he had been very disappointed. He found only two or three Christians there; all the other 16 tribes could not speak English and knew nothing of God. Before his coming Admiral Prevost had asked the Church Missionary Society in London to send out a missionary. He had had to shell Fort Rupert twice with a gunboat because of native excesses.

Mr. Corker said that when he left Alert Bay it was a self-supporting parish and had not dropped its assessment to synod once since he had gone.

TORONTO (CP)—Golf gossip. Ben Hogan is expected to turn up here for the Canadian open although he hasn't sent in an entry yet. . . . It's good news to galleries that Vancouver's Stan Leonard will be in the field for the $3,600 in prizes and the Seagram Golf Cup. . . . He bolsters the chances of the Canadian pros. . . . Montreal will send a strong contingent to the open, four pros and seven amateurs.

ODD BASEBALL PLAY

Irvin (Fort William Time Journal) Refreshment writes in about a peculiar play in the Lakehead Senior Baseball League—a play in which a base-runner touched five bases on an attempted sacrifice. . . . The batter bunted a bopper into the pitcher's glove. . . . The runner, who had reached second, turned and sprinted back to first. . . . The pitcher threw wild trying to cut him off and the runner made third on the overthrow. . . . Then the umpire ordered him back to second because he was entitled to only one base on an overthrow. . . . The guy really earned the one-base advance, with all that sprinting back and forth.

Harrison-Harbert Tie for Golf Lead

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—Dutch Harrison came in from nowhere Sunday with a great pressure-filled round of 69 to tie youthful Chick Harbert for first place in the $5,000 St. Paul golf open tournament.

The pair were to play off over 18 holes for the title today.

Harrison, who works out of Harrisburg, Pa., played slowly and steadily in coming from behind to overtake the 27-year-old Harbert from Battle Creek, Mich.

Harbert, who won the Texas open this year while Harrison took it in 1938, sizzled around the Keller public links in four under par Sunday morning to lead the field at the 54-hole stage. But he required 71 on the final lap as Harrison, after shooting a 73, closed the gap with his 69 to finish the 72 holes deadlocked with 280—eight under par.

Gandhi Says Discontent Would Aid Japs

BOMBAY (CP)—India's Nationalist leader Mohandas K. Gandhi, warned the United Nations Sunday that "we know if India doesn't become free now, hidden discontent will burst forth into a welcome to the Japanese should they effect a landing."

"We feel," he wrote in his newspaper Harijan, "that such an event would be a calamity of the first magnitude, but we can avoid it if India gains her freedom."

The All-India Congress Party is to reach a final decision next Friday on Gandhi's projected non-violence campaign against Britain for failure to give India immediate independence.

Gandhi wrote in his newspaper that the "chorus of indignation" from Britain and the United States over his resistance plans would not deter India.

(The All-India Congress Party is a dominant Hindu group and does not represent the Moslem or other minorities. Britain has promised India postwar independence.)

India asks full control of its administration, Gandhi said, the only reservation being that Allied troops could remain in the country as a safeguard against Japanese invasion.

Illustrating the complexities of the Indian problem, a riot broke out Saturday night in the old city of Delhi. Seventeen persons were taken to hospital after a Hindu-Muslim quarrel which began on a street car and was carried into the street. The general populace waded in, wielding bricks and clubs.

GOES TO LONDON

(The BBC, meanwhile, reported that Sir Ramaswami Mudaliar, Indian representative in the imperial war cabinet, would leave shortly for London to take his place in the council of the United Nations.

(The Japanese continued their efforts to stir up trouble in India by broadcasting from Bangkok a speech by Rash Behari Bose, exiled Indian Nationalist, in which he declared the time is ripe for the people to rise and win their independence. Bose said Japanese troops already are on the eastern border of India, but are postponing action to see whether the Indian people would throw off British rule "of their own accord.")

Rounders Whips Great Whirlaway

CHICAGO (AP)—An Irish-bred colt named Rounders stunned a crowd of 30,000 by defeating Whirlaway, turfdom's leading money winner, by 3½ lengths in winning the $25,000 added Arlington Handicap Saturday.

The sloppy condition of the track and the top-welghed impost of 130 pounds were contributing factors in the crushing defeat of Whirlaway, who won the 1941 Kentucky Derby. Rounders, carried only 103 pounds.

The imported Rounders, owned by Emerson F. Woodward, Texas oil operator, with Jockey F. A. Smith piloting him, pulled in front immediately after the start and led all the way.

Whirlaway was last going away from the starting gate and was last in the small field of five going into the first turn. But as soon as the run down the back stretch began, Jockey Eddie Arcaro moved up until Whirlaway was only a length and a half back of the flying Rounders.

DRAWS AWAY

Charging into the last turn, Arcaro brought Whirlaway along, side and the two horses were on almost even terms at the head of the stretch. Both went wide on the curve into the stretch and once straightened out Rounders began to draw away to the surprise of the spectators.

Rounders ran the mile and a quarter in 2:14. Staretor, second to Whirlaway in the Kentucky Derby a year ago, was third, eight lengths farther back. Pumpgun was fourth and Sirocco last.

Sonny Whitney's Parasang was a tired last in the field of three. Knocked down to $2.90 for $2, the tall son of Alcazar rattled off the mile in a snappy 1:37 flat.

Devil's Thumb, picked up out of the yearling sales for $3,000 a year ago by W. E. Bosing, collected $9,925 in romping to a three-length victory in the 40th running of the United States Hotel Stakes for two-year-olds.
